RAILROADS GET GREEN LIGHT

—RUSK SEES PROGRESS WITH REDS—

Determination May Be Getting Through

Washington (UPI) — America's determination to defend its vital interests against communist encroachment anywhere in the world may finally be getting through to Moscow as a result of the Cuban crisis, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Wednesday.

Rusk said the U.S. handling of the Cuban situation has "caused an element of caution" in Moscow and alerted the world to the fact that nuclear war is a real danger.

"It is very important that (the Russians) understand that when we (in the free world) talk about vital interests . . . when we talk about these great issues of war and peace . . . this is serious talk," Rusk said.

Firm, United

"The one thing that the outsiders must understand," the secretary declared, "is that on the great underlying issues of war and peace, we are united and firm and determined, and this is the signal we must get across, and I think there is a good prospect that after this Cuban affair . . . these signals can go across."

Rusk said in a television interview that one vital American interest is the commitment to the people of West Berlin. Rusk said the commitment "requires the presence of the Western forces . . . it requires access to West Berlin . . . requires a chance for the people of West Berlin to have a vital economy and to live."

Questioned about the current differences between Moscow and Peking, Rusk said these are "very serious and very far-reaching." He said the confusion that they have created in communist parties around the world "has been helpful to the free world."

Techniques

But he cautioned that arguments within the Communist Bloc are essentially over revolutionary techniques, and offer no room for complacency or relaxation of free world effort.

Rusk said the opportunities for compromise over Berlin have been nearly exhausted over the years of talk with the Russians about the disputed city. But he said it was "important that we continue to talk about these to see if we cannot find some way to manage that problem without a great crisis."

Rusk said the Cuban experience has "caused an element of caution on all sides, in Moscow as well as elsewhere . . . men have had to look practically at the fact that nuclear war is a real danger and not just a theoretical danger."

Friends Told

But the United States has told its friends not to draw too many conclusions from the Cuban experience, Rusk said.

"The Soviet Union remains a great power," the secretary warned. "There were special circumstances in Cuba which are not necessarily present in other parts of the world. It would be, I think, wrong to say that because this situation in Cuba came out the way it did that therefore a lot of other questions are going suddenly to take a new shape and new form in fundamental respects."

But, Rusk went on, "I think men in more than one country have had a chance to confront the first question of the Westminster shorter catechism — what is the chief end of man — and I think that has been a sobering experience for everyone concerned."

"I think some of the illusory commitments, some of the fanciful ideas, give way to an underlying sense of reality," Rusk said, "and that out of this may come a determination on the part of many leaders to build the kind of world which is tolerable and not the kind of world (in) which . . . problems almost literally pass beyond the capacity of the mind of man to handle.

"And so I think there will be a new note of sobriety on all sides. At least, that is the hope, because I think this has been a very instructive experience through which everyone has gone."

Rusk said it was important not to exhibit what he described as "the traditional American impatience to get on and to get to an answer quickly."

No Hurry

"We don't feel," he said, "that we need to rush to an answer if the other side is unwilling to find an answer that is acceptable."

Rusk said he still believes as he did before becoming secretary of state that where there is what he called "adversary negotiation," summit diplomacy must be handled with great care.

President To Urge Positive Approach

. . . BY THE KREMLIN

Washington (UPI) — President Kennedy is expected to make it clear to Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan in their talks here Thursday that progress on Berlin and other critical cold war issues depends on some more positive diplomatic approaches from the Kremlin.

U.S. officials said Wednesday that the principal purpose of the 4:30 p.m. session at the White House is to try to tie up some of the loose ends of the Cuban crisis.

The major issue remaining between Moscow and Washington is the fulfillment of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's pledge to permit international inspection to prove he has pulled all his offensive weapons out of the island.

Could Range

Administration officials acknowledged, however, that the discussions, which will be attended by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, could range over other East-West issues if Mikoyan brings them up. They said Kennedy is willing to discuss cold war peril points but has no intention of doing any negotiating with Mikoyan.

The fact that Mikoyan is close to Khrushchev and the Soviet premier's ace troubleshooter has led to some speculation that he may be impowered to discuss in some depth problems such as Berlin and disarmament.

Most high officials believe, however, that he is on a "fishing expedition" to get a firsthand assessment for Khrushchev of Kennedy's mood in the wake of the Caribbean affair. If that is true, they added, Mikoyan will find no admission here that Kennedy owes Khrushchev a reward for removing his nuclear threat from the southern flank of the United States.

The Communist line is that Kennedy owes Khrushchev something in return for Soviet removal of offensive weapons from Cuba.

Officials point out that this Red argument ignores the fact that there would have been no peril of war over Cuba in the first place if the Soviet leader had not tried to slip nuclear capable weapons into strategic positions just off the U.S. coast.

Kennedy Takes Action; IAM Strikes Lockheed

Burbank, Calif. (AP)—The International Association of Machinists struck aerospace giant Lockheed Aircraft Corp. Wednesday in a bid for a union shop. A few hours later President Kennedy took steps under the Taft-Hartley Act which could halt the walkout next week.

The union said it would abide by the President's decision but added: "We're unhappy about the invocation of Taft-Hartley."

President Thomas McNett of IAM District 727 issued this statement:

"If there had to be government interference, we would have much preferred seizure. In this case, the strike was provoked by the company and the union had no other course.

Preferred

"We would have much preferred to have slugged this out with the company without government interference. When the (Taft-Hartley court) injunction is invoked we will make every effort to obtain the type of contract that we sought in our prolonged negotiations and if unable to obtain it, we will strike again."

A union spokesman said the walkout and picketing will continue until Taft-Hartley provisions are carried out.

Board Chairman Courtlandt S. Gross of Lockheed said: "I feel the President acted in the best interests of all concerned. We hope through this means we can arrive at an agreement."

If the government obtains under the Taft Hartley Act a cooling off period, company and union spokesmen said Lockheed's latest contract proposal could be submitted to a compulsory vote of employes in the bargaining units involved—both union and nonunion.

This is what Lockheed had asked in submitting the offer last Saturday—calling for wage hikes of about 25 cents over 3 years and granting other concessions. It avoided, however, the key issue in the Lockheed-IAM dispute: an election among all Lockheed employes on whether to authorize a union shop in which all workers would be required to join the union.

The President created a 3-man board of inquiry to investigate and report to him by next Monday. Its recommendations will help him determine whether to ask a federal court order barring a strike while further efforts are made to reach agreement.

As Kennedy acted, the walkout which began at midnight local time at company facilities in California, Florida and Hawaii, was reported by union sources to be 97% effective.

Plants Down

A union spokesman said: "From our viewpoint, the plants are down from border to border. Nothing is being manufactured."

The company, however, declared work was going ahead, and that 40% of the total work force at Burbank and 67.6% at Van Nuys, Calif., were on the job.

In his executive order, Kennedy declared the strike affects a substantial part of the ballistic missile, space vehicle and military aircraft industries. It would imperil the national health and safety if permitted to continue, he said.

Death Ends Tragic Life In Hospital

St. Joseph, Mo. (AP) — The story of a tragedy that sent Miss Mary Burns to the Missouri State Hospital here for 72 years was disclosed this week by relatives, who thought the 102-year-old woman had been dead 21 years.

Miss Burns died last week at the hospital which she never had left since her commitment in 1890. Among those who read the story of her death was N.S. Burns, Jericho Springs, Mo. He recognized the name as that of his aunt, whom he thought dead, and acted quickly to save her from a pauper's burial.

Burns and other relatives told this story of her illness:

Miss Burns was to have been married on a Sunday in 1882. Her fiance was to come to the wedding by horseback. He did not show up and a search party was organized.

His body, ripped by a bullet, was found beside a road, his horse grazing nearby.

The grief put Miss Burns in shock and caused her mental illness. She stayed at her father's home near La Belle, Mo., 8 years and then was committed to the state hospital.

Burns said he had visited his aunt at the hospital until 1937, but when he wrote to the hospital in 1942 to inquire about her, he was told she had been dead for a year and a half. He said he believed his informant had given him information based on the record of another patient by the same name.

Burns claimed the body of his aunt and it was taken to Jericho Springs for burial.

APPEALS COURT OKAYS CHANGES IN WORK RULES

65,000 Jobs Eventually Would Be Eliminated

By WILLIAM CONWAY

Chicago (AP)—A Federal Appeals Court upheld Wednesday plans of the nation's railroads to eliminate what the carriers call "featherbedding."

More than one-half billion dollars a year would be saved through elimination of 65,000 jobs.

The 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed a lower court ruling which dismissed a suit by 5 brotherhoods of operating rail workers which had sought to bar sweeping changes in their work rules.

Wednesday's opinion said the evidence indicates the railroads in 1961 paid $592,062,000 in costs and wages "for unneeded employes occupying redundant positions, pay for time not worked, compensation that was not commensurate with the value of services rendered, and the cost of owning and maintaining equipment and facilities" for unneeded jobs.

Prepare For Changes

A railroad spokesman said rules changes — expected eventually to eliminate 65,000 jobs—will be posted as soon as the lower court ruling is officially dissolved.

A spokesman for the unions said labor will make no move on the court decision until Thursday at the earliest. He said labor leaders wanted time to study the decision.

The unions, representing firemen, engineers, trainmen, conductors and switchmen, have said previously they will strike if the work rules changes are put into effect.

It is expected, however, that President Kennedy will appoint an emergency board to look into the dispute. This, under terms of the Railway Labor Act, would postpone both implementation of the rules and strike action for 60 days, and possibly longer.

Firemen in Jeopardy

The jobs marked for elimination are those of 40,000 firemen who work on diesel locomotives used in yard and freight service, and some 25,000 train and yard workers.

After the appeals court ruling Wednesday, J. E. Wolfe, chief spokesman for the railroads, commented: "As soon as the lower court's injunction is dissolved, the carriers will move properly to make effective these rules, which are designed to help end the featherbedding problem."

Wolfe said the earliest effective day for the rules changes would be Dec. 18. That's the day, he said, when the injunction will be officially wiped away unless other court motions are made.

It Began in 1959

The dispute which began with a railroad move in February, 1959, to start overhauling work rules reached the U.S. District Court of Judge Joseph Sam Perry last summer.

Judge Perry ruled that the employers had a right to apply a set of economy rules which they announced in November, 1959. He overruled contention of the unions that the carriers' move violated the Railway Labor Act.

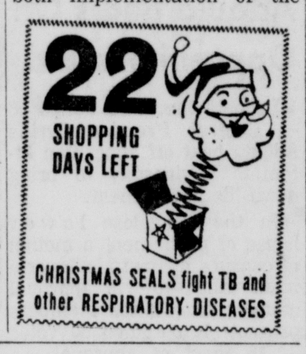

The decision upholding Judge Perry was signed by Judges Elmer J. Schnackenberg, Latham Castle and Luther M. Swygert.

Unions Scolded

The appeals panel scolded the unions for threatening to strike while the dispute was in the lower court last summer. The opinion set forth:

"We would like to believe that this unnecessary threat of a strike of such magnitude as to amount to a national transportation paralysis was ill advised. If we are wrong in that assumption, then we shall remind the persons responsible that they are dealing with railroad properties which are impressed with a public interest which is paramount to that of all the litigants in this case."

The judges brushed aside the brotherhoods' complaint that the railroads, in announcing their intention of putting the work rules changes into effect last summer, violated the Railway Labor Act.

'Public Uninformed On Mental Health'

By KAREN KENNEY
Star Staff Writer

The general public in the United States is not misinformed about mental illness—it is simply uninformed, said a researcher who has spent 5 years studying the problem Wednesday.

Dr. Jim Nunnally, a Vanderbilt University psychologist, spoke at the University of Nebraska's Midwest Dynamic Mental Health Program for public information people.

"We've found in our tests that if what the people hear or read sounds authoritative, they will gobble it up," he said.

Dr. Nunnally explained that one of the biggest problems the information people face is the inability to communicate meaningfully.

Loaded With Fear

"Words like insanity, neurosis, and psychotherapy are so loaded with fear, negativism, that attitudes become so fixed they are almost impossible to change," he said.

"Teaching new concepts is not difficult; the real problem is changing attitudes and making certain people understand that there are causes for mental illness just as there are causes for physical disorders," said Dr. Nunnally.

The 3-day conference drew some 60 newsmen and information officers from a 7-state area to the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education.

The meeting, ending Wednesday, was sponsored by the National Institute of Health, the U.S. Public Health Service and the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute in cooperation with the State Department of Health.

In a post-luncheon session, Dr. Peter Pfeffer, superintendent of the Glenwood and Woodward State Schools in Iowa, told the group:

Re-Integrate Pupil

"Our basic goal in treating the hospitalized psychiatric patient or training the institutionalized retarded pupil is to re-integrate him ultimately into the community at the optimal level at which he is capable of functioning."

This calls for the entire resources of the hospital or institution to be called into play, he said.

Custodians as well as the professional staff, said Dr. Pfeffer, are potential therapists and directly responsible for the establishment of a good therapeutic climate.

Once good relations are established with the employes, it is imperative that a rapport be maintained with the relatives of the patient, he added.

Dr. Pfeffer advocated a "policy of honesty" to be followed in dealing with relatives—regardless of the impact.

"Early involvement of the relatives in the whole relationship of treatment or training process pays dividends," he said.

Planners Split On 52nd Street

. . . DEPARTMENTS ALSO DISAGREE ON ALIGNMENT

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The City-County Planning Commission voted 4-3 in favor of opening 52nd from O to R with direct north-south alignment following a public hearing Wednesday.

Commission action was one vote short of making an affirmative recommendation to City Council.

However, the commission unanimously recommended the opening of R between 56th and 58th — the only segment of R not opened or dedicated between 48th and Cotner.

Appearing in favor of the 52nd opening were attorneys representing Cotner Plaza, Tony & Luigi's restaurant, Gateway Manor, the Copple and Tillman tracts and several 48th street businesses.

Atty. Lloyd Marti said the opening of 52nd is needed and all property owners concerned favor the action.

Alignment Opposed

Planning Director Douglas Brogden and Traffic Engineer Robert Holsinger favored opening 52nd, but objected to the proposed straight-through alignment from O to R.

Brogden said the alignment, proposed by the city engineer and property owners, would discourage residential development, lead to more extensive business zoning and affect storm sewer costs.

Marti said the proposed 52nd alignment would open this area and contended speculation as to land use, future zoning and opening of 52nd onto Vine was immaterial to the immediate consideration.

He said City Engineer Carl Fisher and Public Works Director D. L. Erickson favored the proposed alignment and a decision was needed so the intersection could be designed into the East O improvement project between 50th and 63rd.

Brogden said the $2,000 to $4,000 estimate for later opening of the East O median was small compared with the thousands of dollars involved in a poor street layout of the area between Vine and O.

OTHER PLANNING ACTION, PAGE 22

Overall Plan Urged

He urged development of an overall street plan for the area.

The 48th and O frontages of the area are zoned commercial, but the remainder of the area is zoned or developed residential.

Several commission members were critical of lack of coordination and cooperation between various city departments and the "deadline urgency" of the proposal.

A preliminary sketch of street layout in the area for the future opening of 52nd was developed last summer by the planning department.

However, Brogden told the commission he didn't learn until a few weeks ago of the engineering department plans for opening 52nd until after property owners recently appeared before the council to request the opening.

City Atty. Ralph Nelson advised the city charter makes the geometric design or layout of streets a prime function of the traffic engineer rather than the city engineer's office.

Commission Chairman E. J. Faulkner commented that the full-time mayor plan, recently approved by the voters, should encourage inter-departmental coordination and cooperation.

Pope Faces Knife

Report Persists: May Have Surgery Soon

Vatican City (AP) — Pope John XXIII was ill Wednesday and reports persisted — despite informal denials — that he might undergo surgery soon.

Two doctors called on the 81-year-old ruler of the Roman Catholic Church, spent considerable time with him, with one remaining overnight in the Apostolic Palace.

Vatican officials at first said Pope John had a cold that developed into a mild case of influenza, forcing him to cancel his regular Wednesday general audience.

Later, the same officials said it would be more accurate to say simply that the Pope was indisposed, without specifying the nature of his illness.

No Explanation

No explanation was given for the change, which came after the two doctors called at the palace. Officials said one of the physicians, Prof. Piero Mazzoni, stayed there Tuesday night and would sleep in the Vatican again Wednesday night.

Meanwhile, reports persisted that the aged Pontiff might undergo an operation for a long troublesome prostate condition — perhaps before Christmas.

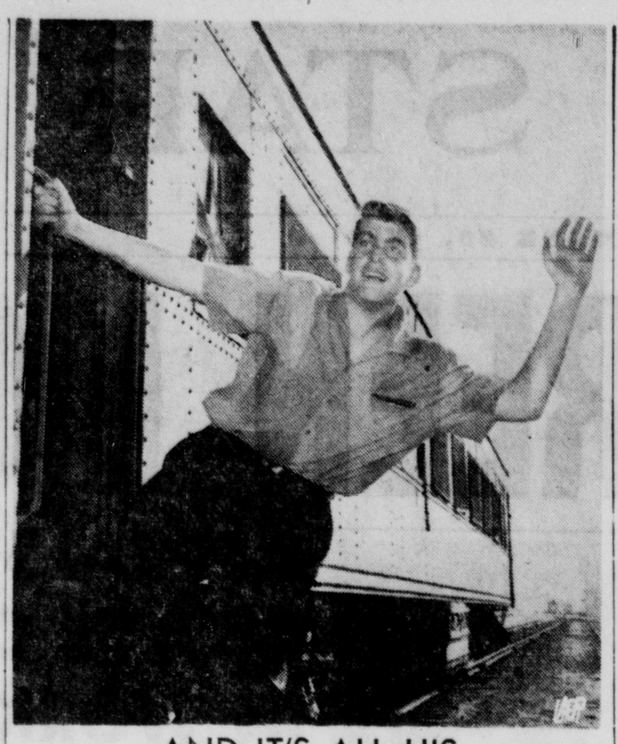

The reports first appeared in Rome newspapers and Catholic sources said they also heard an operation was being considered.

No Further Discussion

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Angelo Dell'Acqua, substitute secretary of state at the Vatican, told newsmen, however, "no surgery has been scheduled." But he declined to discuss the Pope's condition further.

Pope John looked in excellent health when he celebrated his 81st birthday last Sunday with a visit to the Pontifical Propaganda Fide University. In an address to seminarians and young priests, the Pontiff mentioned — for the second time in a month — his advancing age and his readiness to meet death.

"We are at the start of our 82nd year," he said. "Will we arrive at the end of it? we are not excessively concerned."

Jonathan said he had learned that railroads charge first-class fares, with a minimum of $18, for moving such cars on trains.

IN RUSSIA—

Workers Ordered To Snoop

By PRESTON GROVER

Moscow (AP)—The Communist Party and the Soviet government Wednesday ordered into effect an inspection system making every workman a watchman against cheating and poor workmanship.

This implements a decision reached by the party's Central Committee last week. A joint state-party control or inspection system was set up for all production in the Soviet Union.

Alexander Shelepin, 44-year-old former director of the secret police, has already been put in charge of it.

This inspection system is one of the major agencies by which the government hopes to speed up production, get the most out of every worker and trap embezzlers.

Every worker and every executive clearly is expected to keep watch on all his fellows, even while he himself is under the scrutiny of official and party watchers.

Living Cost Dips A Little

. . . First Of 1962

Washington (AP) — Living costs edged down a bit in October in the first monthly decline of 1962. The November level may reflect a further drop.

This favorable news for housewives was reported Wednesday by the Labor Department which until now had been relaying monthly price advisories showing steady, 1962 increases to new record levels.

The index kept by the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics, declined a bare one-tenth of 1% in October to 106% of the 1957-58 average.

This means it costs 60 cents more now to buy what $10 would purchase 4 years ago.

The story in October was that meat prices, after soaring in September as some Midwest farmers withheld livestock from markets, fell somewhat after the farmers' "strike" was lifted.

The prime minister obtained 47 votes, and 2 members abstained.

ANOTHER BRITON IS ACCUSED

. . . Of Passing Secrets

London (UPI) — A blonde employe of the British Information Service was arraigned Wednesday on charges of passing classified documents to a Yugoslav diplomat with whom she was having an affair.

The woman is Barbara Janet Fell, 44, who once was awarded the Order of the British Empire by Queen Elizabeth. She was accused on 6 counts of violating the Official Secrets Act during the affair which she said "was not an emotional success."

Prosecutor Oliver Nugent said that no question of the safety of the state was involved in the case, and that none of the documents concerned defense matters. The involved documents were identified as copies of reports to the foreign secretary from British information posts abroad.

Two Other Trials

The case followed two other spy trials involving civil servants. A special tribunal is investigating how it was possible for Admiralty clerk William John Vassall to spy undetected for the Russians for several months. Vassall is serving an 18-year senetnce. An admitted homosexual, he testified he was blackmailed into espionage by compromising photographs.

Earlier, civil servant George Blake was sentenced to 42 years in prison for serving as member of a Soviet spy ring. Two associates received 10 years each.

Bell To Boss Foreign Aid

. . . Gordon Will Become Federal Budget Director

By JERRY T. BAULCH

Washington (AP)—Budget Director David E. Bell, a 43-year-old veteran in the realm of international economics, was picked by President Kennedy Wednesday to run the U.S. foreign aid program.

"A challenging and difficult assignment," Kennedy said in announcing he nominated Bell because of "the vital importance of this program to our national security."

The job of budget director will be taken over by 46-year-old Kermit Gordon, now a member of the President's Council of Economics Advisers. A professor of economics at Williams Cllege, he joined the White House staff early in the Kennedy administration.

KERMIT GORDON

DAVID E. BELL

Bell Is 6 Feet-4

Bell, a towering man of 6 feet 4 inches who was a 3-year basketball letterman at Pomona College in California, succeeds Fowler Hamilton.

Hamilton, a New York lawyer, is one of a succession of foreign aid chiefs who have served the agency — which has operaetd under various names since World War II—none for very long. The agency has come in for repeated criticism from Congress over the years.

Kennedy picked Hamilton to run the agency—now called the Agency for International Development — during a period of sharp reorganization. Under this, new concepts of helping other nations are under study.

Hamilton sent his resignation to Kennedy earlier this month and the White House announced that Kennedy has accepted it, effective Dec. 7. The outgoing aid administrator said he intends to return to his law practice.

Bell's appointment to the new job—in which he will get the same $22,500-a-year salary — was forecast widely when it became known Hamilton was stepping out. It was understood that Hamilton had recommended Bell, among others, as his possible successor.

Needs Confirmation

Bell's nomination is a recess appointment. A formal nomination when Congress meets in January will be subject to Senate confirmation. Gordon will not require such confirmation in the post of budget director.

Kennedy, in announcing the two selections, praised Gordon's knowledge of public finance and "the relationship between the fiscal policies of the government and our national economy."

Of Bell, Kennedy said, he has "a rare combination of qualities of mind, character and experience—an excellent background in foreign economic development and an exceptional grasp of the workings of government."

Bell was born in Jamestown, N.D., but grew up in California. At Pomona College he graduated as a Phi Beta Kappa and then went to Harvard for his graduate study.

Gordon first served the government in the Office of Price Administration before joining the Army in World War II. In 1945-56, before going to teach at Williams, he was a special assistant to the assistant secretary of state for economic affairs.

Girl Arrested; Boy Friend's Judgment Bad

A 21-year-old Lincoln School of Commerce student, told by her boy friend that he would pay the fine if she got a speeding ticket, found herself in the city jail Wednesday night.

Officer Ron Flansburg said he clocked the girl, driving west on O from 9th with her boy friend, at 85 miles an hour in a 35-mile per-hour zone.

Flansburg said he first clocked the car at 80 m.p.h. going over the Harris Overpass but that he was not able to stop it until the junction of West O and Burlington Roundhouse Road.

"She said her boy friend told her to go ahead . . . open it up . . . that he would pay the fine if she got a ticket," Flansburg said.

The 19-year-old boy was released and the girl ordered lodged in jail.

Earlier in the evening, police jailed a 19-year-old Lincoln car park employe after he was clocked through radar at 70 m.p.h. in a 35-mile-an-hour zone on East O.

Also lodged in jail was a 22-year-old heavy equipment operator, clocked at 45 m.p.h. between 27th and 21st on O, and violating the traffic signal at 21st and O.

Dutch Mourn 'Old Queen,' Wilhelmina

. . . White Funeral Set

The Hague (AP)— The Dutch mourned "the Old Queen" Wednesday and will grant her last wish — a white funeral to demonstrate her faith that "death is the beginning of life."

She died in her sleep at 12:59 a.m. at the age of 82. Her daughter, Queen Juliana, to whom she handed the throne in 1948, was at the bedside.

Wilhelmina — affectionately known to her people as "the Old Queen" — had been living a simple life of seclusion at her grim, grey 16th century palace at Loo near Apeldoorn, in the eastern part of the Netherlands since her voluntary abdication.

The funeral will be Dec. 8 in the royal mausoleum of the new church in the old city of Delft. The royal family belongs to the Dutch Reformed Church.

Will Rest Beside Mate

The ex-queen will be buried beside her German husband, Prince Hendrik, who died in 1934, in the mausoleum of the ancient Royal House of Orange.

Clipper Finds Caroline's Recess Is Lively

Washington (AP) — Clipper, the first family's new dog, learned Wednesday what it's like to recess with the White House nursery school. It's mighty lively.

Even President Kennedy strolled from his office for a moment to watch the kiddies and say hello to Clipper, the 5-month-old German shepherd given to Mrs. Kennedy by her father-in-law, Joseph P. Kennedy, at Hyannis Port, Mass., last weekend.

The First Lady was there, too, in a white sports outfit with boots and got in some exercise running on the lawn.

They all turned out for playtime on the south lawn of the White House, a daily outdoor break in the kindergarten attended by Caroline Kennedy and some 10 friends.

Cuban Mission Pilots Decorated For Flights

Omaha (AP) — One of the first Air Force reconnaissance pilots to seek evidence of a Cuban arms buildup said Wednesday U.S. airmen were briefed on what to look for "and fortunately we found it."

Maj. Richard S. Heyser, 35, Apalachicola, Fla., said visual sightings by high-flying pilots plus equipment carried in their planes provided the information which permitted other fliers to go in on low level missions later.

Heyser was one of 10 members of the 4080th Strategic Wing, Laughlin Air Force Base, Tex., decorated Wednesday for bringing back evidence of the buildup of offensive weapons in Cuba.

Defense officials previously confirmed the 4080th is equipped with super-high flying U2s of the type Gary Powers was flying when shot down over Russia.

Heyser would not say what type of plane he was flying over Cuba, but he said he was flying high enough so that he wasn't worried about being shot down.

The Air Force said the planes used on the reconnaissnce missions were unarmed. Heyser said missions by his unit are flown on a pre-determined track and often—referring to the use of cameras—"we don't know what we're shooting—seldom in fact."

Heyser and other fliers decorated at SAC headquarters Wednesday spoke guardedly Newsmen were able to chat briefly with them following ceremonies in which Gen. Thomas S. Power, SAC commander, made the awards of Distinguished Flying Cross, the second highest peacetime flying award.

Capt. Gerald McIlmoyle, McCook, Neb., admitted his assignment is above par in adventure and also in reward.

"You get a prickly feeling when the President tells you he's proud of what you are and what you are doing," said McIlmoyle. He met the President in Florida where his wing was given an award.

Earlier Heyser was personally congratulated by Kennedy as one of the two men who furnished conclusive evidence for the Soviet missile buildup in Cuba. The other was Maj. Rudolf Anderson Jr., Greenville, S.D., who lost his life on a Cuban reconnaissance mission.

The others decorated Wednesday were Majs. James A. Qualls, Davidson, Okla., Buddy L. Brown, Bakersfield, Calif.; and Edwin G. Emerling, Des Moines, Ia.; Capts. Robert L. Primrose, Norway, Ia.; Roger H. Herman, Tucson, Ariz.; Daniel W. Schmarr, Lawrenceburg, Ind.; Charles W. Kern, San Antonio, Tex., and George M. Bull, Colon, Canal Zone.

Praise From JFK, Power Prized By Nebraska Flier

Omaha (AP) — Capt. Gerald McIlmoyle beamed and said that when the President of the United States and Gen. Thomas Power say you've done a good job, "you can't get any higher praise."

Capt. McIlmoyle

That was the Nebraska flier's reaction Wednesday after getting the Distinguished Flying Cross.

He was one of 10 members of the 4080th Strategic Wing at Laughlin Air Force Base, Tex., to get the medal or an oak leaf cluster for photo-surveillance missions over Cuba. Air Force officials previously have confirmed that the 4080th uses high-flying U2s.

The 32-year-old McIlmoyle has been in the Air Force since May, 1951, and with the 4080th since 1957.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene G. McIlmoyle who lived in McCook until about a year ago when they moved to Albuquerque, N.M. The elder McIlmoyle was a frozen foods distributor.

Capt. McIlmoyle was born in North Platte but the family moved to McCook while he was small. He won a football letter at McCook High School and played American Legion Junior baseball.

McIlmoyle attended McCook College but he worked, among other jobs in a garage and in a grocery, and skipped college athletics.

His wife is the former Patricia Ruth McBrien of McCook. They have two children.

26 Other Pilots Also Given DFC

Washington (UPI)—The Defense Department Wednesday named 36 Navy, Marine and Air Force pilots to receive distinguished Flying Crosses for their reconnaissance flights during the Cuban crisis.

The awards, either the cross or the oak leaf cluster for those who received the medal previously, were presented to 10 Strategic Air Command pilots of the 4080th Strategic Wing who fly high-altitude missions from Laughlin Air Force Base, Tex.

Twenty-six Navy, Marine and Air Force pilots who made low level missions from southeastern U. S. bases also received the medal.

Man Is Found Shot To Death; Pair Questioned

North Platte (AP) —The body of a shooting victim was discovered in a ditch Wednesday and police were questioning a man who said he and the victim had scuffled over a rifle.

Police identified the victim as Jessie Junior Crabtree, 33, of Rome, Ga. They said they were questioning Henry Duncan, 50, and his wife, Wanda, 47.

Duncan told officers he had borrowed a .22 caliber rifle Tuesday night with the intentention of going rabbit hunting in Colorado. He was quoted as saying he scuffled with Crabtree over the rifle several blocks from where the body was found.

Crabtree had walked off after the gun discharged, Duncan told officers.

Residents of the area had reported hearing the shot fired Tuesday night, and police had searched the area. The body was found near the west city limits by a passerby.

2 School Bond Issues, Swim Pool Okayed

By the Associated Press

Three Nebraska towns gave approval to special bond issues as voters went to the polls. Two of the proposals were for new schools, while the 3rd involved a new swimming pool.

At Superior a $585,000 bond issue for a new high school was approved by a vote of 722 to 329. The new high school will be built in the west part of the town on park land owned by the city. It will include gymnasium, physical education plant and a large stage in addition to classrooms and service rooms.

This was the first time the bond issue had been presented to Superior voters.

Schuyler voters approved a school bond issue after 3 unsuccessful attempts to get the issue passed. The tally was 581 in favor and 450 against.

The $287,000 in bonds will be used to build a 6-room elementary school and to construct an addition to the high school building.

Voters at Arnold approved a bond issue of $35,000 for a municipal swimming pool. The vote was 306 for and 94 against. The pool will cost $70,000 with the federal government paying half.

Scottsbluff Guard Unit Wins Fifth Army Rifle Match

The Scottsbluff unit of the Nebraska National Guard, Hq. & Hq. Battery, First Howitzer Battalion, 168th Artillery, won the Fifth Army area match in the chief of the National Guard bureau indoor rifle matches for 1962, State Adjutant General Maj. Gen. Lyle A. Welch announced Wednesday.

The Scottsbluff team complied an aggregate score of 1,889 and missed national honors by only one point.

The national high individual score of 390 won national honors for Capt. Paul H. Pumphrey of Gering.

Other members of the team were SP-4 Lester Smith of Scottsbluff, SP-4 William L Kummer of Lyman, P.F.C. Dale Colerick of Scottsbluff, 2nd Lt. William Van Pelt of Harrisburg.

Child Meets Tragic Death

Omaha (AP)—A two-year-old Omaha boy died of strangulation after his head became wedged in a stairway.

Police identified the victim as Robert Charles Mericle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mericle.

Mrs. Mericle told officers the boy and his younger sister, Linda, ate lunch and went outside to play. She discovered the accident when she called to them and heard Linda crying.

Reopening Of Gresham Bank Seen As Agreement Reached

A verbal agreement was reported Wednesday which may permit reopening of the Gresham State Bank.

Roger Sack of York said parties to the agreement are his father, Dean Sack, president of the York State Bank; himself, vice president; and stockholders of the Gresham State Bank.

Details of the agreement probably will be released Thursday by the State Banking Department.

Its director, Ralph Misko, said the plan was being put to paper late Wednesday.

He said the agreement would assure "full restitution" to the depositors of the Gresham bank, which was found recently to have a shortage of about $500,000.

The bank would be reopened under new management, Misko pointed out.

"We are very happy to have pulled the bank out of its present situation and we hope to have it opened in a few days," Sack said.

He cautioned, "The agreement involves a half-million dollar risk by all persons involved."

The York bank hopes to salvage a substantial number of the 14,000 insufficient fund checks written on the bank, some of which date back to the early 1930s.

Sack said depositors will be notified of the present status of their accounts and that they can withdraw their money if they desire.

However, he sees no run on the bank.

"We are confident the people of Gresham will have confidence in our ownership," he noted.

The York banker praised the defunct bank president David Yung and stockholder William Hunter of Omaha for "a very substantial personal sacrifice."

Had a reorganization agreement not been reached, then the Gresham bank would have gone into receivorship and the checks would have become public record.

The bank was closed and taken over by the banking department after cashier Arthur Walford shot and killed himself when state examiners appeared.

Later, Harry I. Hylton, the bank vice president, admitted that he and Walford were aware of checks being misappropriated.

Most of the misappropriated funds had come from savings and checking accounts.

Sack related that Hylton, who awaits sentencing on two counts of false entry, and the estate of Walford will assist financially in putting the bank back in operation.

A Matter Of Outlook

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

One can easily develop a pretty depressed state of mind if he concentrates on all his adversity. And one can come up with a pretty dismal view of government depending upon his concept of what government ought to be. Fred Herrington, executive director of the Nebraska Tax Research Council, seems to be wearing a fairly long face these days in matters relating to government, taxes and spending. A former state tax commissioner, Mr. Herrington is probably as well informed about such matters as anyone in Nebraska.

Mr. Herrington, also, is a very genial individual but we find it difficult to share his philosophy of government. At the annual conference of the group he represents, Mr. Herrington sounded the warning that the citizens' total tax bill is going to double long before their income doubles. He also had a few other thoughts such as when, if ever, we will stop studying taxation and do a little studying of spending. No thought is ever given, he said, to things which might be eliminated as matters of public spending. He pointed out that Nebraska now has 5,100 separate governments and there seems to be more created in every session of the Legislature.

Taxation And Spending

Gov. Frank Morrison joined in the chorus with a warning against people's "leaning too much on government to solve more and more problems. It is more important for the people to exercise their initiative," he said, rather than looking to government for all the answers in such fields as unemployment, education, development of resources and other issues.

Presumably, the report on 5,100 separate governments is intended to scare the people as well as impress upon them claims of great duplication, overlapping and general inefficiency. But even if this were true, it would not be the sort of indictment of government that Mr. Herrington would lead you to believe. If the figure is any indictment at all, it is of the people themselves.

What sort of governments are these that Mr. Herrington refers to? We assume they include all the municipal governments, county governments and school districts. Beyond this, there are other smaller governmental units in such fields as flood control and conservation. Even public power might be included by some people as a unit of government. But the existence of these units of government is no cause for people to become overly alarmed. It is no cause for them to suddenly demand a great cutback in things or to believe that tax money is being wasted. Mr. Herrington is not quite fair in his presentation of the matter, nor does he present it in its entirety. Should government as such be condemned because the Nebraska people are unwilling to consolidate their school districts? We don't believe so.

Nor is it proper to assume that all this government spells a wasteful growth in the area of public business. Mr. Herrington is dead wrong—we are not about to start studying spending; we have been doing this for years and years. As a former public official, Mr. Herrington is also aware of this. Government efficiency is greater today than it has ever been in history. Government procedures and practices are constantly being streamlined and modernized. It is only because of this modernization and streamlining that we have been able to keep up as well as we have with the demands made upon government.

Certainly, we spent more money when we went from the horse and buggy to the automobile but who wants to go back? Modern accounting offices are a great deal more expensive, too, than the books and pencils you could one day get by with but where would we be without this maze of machinery? We have discarded the old as we adopted the new.

Mr. Herrington also wants to know who can remember considerations ever being given to doing away with any service provided by government or the combining of two governments performing the same service. We can remember it and so could Mr. Herrington if he wanted to. What about the school districts that have been consolidated, even though the rate of such consolidation is less than most of us think is desirable?

What about the old Sanitary District 1 of Lincoln that was discontinued in favor of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed District? What about the consolidation of taxing functions in many cities and counties across this state—a movement which has left Lincoln unique with its dual city and county operation? Mr. Herrington has largely thrown out a great smokescreen. As for his tax doubling prediction, it is just that, a prediction and should carry the same weight as all such guesses are given. Our guess is that he is wrong. Then, there is the final matter of initiative by the people.

Consolidation Examples

There is no argument with people's snowing initiative but how in the world are "the people" to solve by themselves the group problems of unemployment, education, development of resources, etc.? Maybe we are expected to go back to the system of private tutoring but we doubt that even the anti-tax research council would go for that. We fail to see the service performed by this kind of constant harassment of government and the implication it leaves that the public is somehow being taken to the cleaners by sinister forces inherently a part of that government.

Takes Major Step

Upward of a dozen state and federal agencies on call of the Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation Commission sat down together this week for long range planning in respect to the Elkhorn and Big Blue River Basins.

It was the most laudable action of the current day and could well be considered the first step, long delayed, of a major piece of resources development.

The various agencies, representing resources development, ranging from forestation to flood control and water use, expect to spend the next two years formulating practical programs for the remaking of eastern Nebraska's two great watersheds.

The action presents the state commission in a most useful light—that of assuming the initiative where the development of important state resources are concerned. Warren Fairchild, executive director of the commission, explained that in the past federal agencies have gone into areas where interest is high and worked with local groups on invitation. Other areas lacking the trigger pulling essential had to be passed by.

The state commission rightly interprets its function as one providing the initiative and then acting as the coordinating force. This sense of duty is based on the commission's responsibility for the development of all the state's water resources. It is a refreshing concept of service and it presages an important move forward in the ultimate realization of the state's maximum economic potential.

Director Fairchild has assured the state that development planning will not begin and end with the Elkhorn and Big Blue. The commission envisions these as the beginning of similar studies for every river basin in the state.

Building Code Changes

To err is still human and it is not expected that city officials will never make a mistake. Thus, one should not be too critical of Building Inspector Ed Vorhees for failing to catch a violation of the building code in plans for a downtown building. The plans were approved when they contained a violation of fire protection provisions and the violation was not noticed until construction of the building was well under way.

The proposed solution to the problem is where the argument is likely to come in. To solve the conflict, an ordinance was introduced to the City Council to alter the building code and bring it into conformity with the plans of the controversial downtown structure. This route was taken because, according to Vorhees, it had been done a number of times in the past.

Possibly construction on the new building could not legally continue in violation of the ordinance but this possibility should be explored. Rather than constantly changing the ordinance, the city should make some provision for taking care of mistakes that might be made. The idea in the past has not always been to take care of mistakes, but to give someone something wanted in the building code.

There is something to be said for flexibility but it leaves a bad impression to alter the building code for specific projects, regardless of the circumstances. If the code can be amended to satisfy specific needs without serious damage, it never should have been made so strict to begin with. There is a fundamental inequity in making changes in the code as specific problems and difficulties are encountered.

The Birmingham Case

The editor of the Birmingham, Alabama, Post Herald took pen in hand to endorse a proposal for a change in his city's form of government. It was published on the morning of election day.

Whether the voters were decisively swayed by the editor's plea is an imponderable. But at any rate they voted for the change.

Shortly after the election the editor was arrested, charged with violation of the state's corrupt practice act which prohibits soliciting votes on election day. Conviction of the misdemeanor provides a maximum penalty of a $500 fine and six months imprisonment.

Unfortunately, the Alabama judge reversed himself on what appeared to be the most sensible solution to the situation. Th judge first dismissed the action, then changed his mind and ordered the editor to stand trial.

The action is ridiculous. If it actually was covered by the state's law, then the law is not only ridiculous but dangerous.

A newspaper is not a candidate for anything nor a part of a political apparatus. It is no more to be condemned for venting an editorial opinion than any individual who on election day or any other day decides to state how he feels about a candidate or an issue. Newspapers do not win elections nor lose them. That is an experience reserved for the people of the community. They pay the price of a misfortune of balloting and gain the rewards of fortunate decisions.

The Birmingham case will not go down in history. But the very fact of its inanity is constructive. It does an exemplary job of reducing the question of freedom of speech to its most understandable form.

Governor-Elect Pulls His Rank

WASHINGTON — Governor-elect William Scranton of Scranton, Pa., started off his new career by bumping seven passengers behind on Eastern Air Lines flight 71 en route from Scranton to Washington after the Thanksgiving Day weekend.

Several of them were school children holding confirmed tickets, purchased three weeks in advance. But when the governor-elect telephoned from his home a few hours in advance of the flight, he got a preferred position for himself and six. The Eastern Air Lines manager told passengers he had to take care of Scranton.

"I was at the ticket counter with my 16-year-old daughter when the governor came up from behind," said Mrs. Edward Loessel, who had driven two hours and 15 minutes from Binghamton, N.Y., to put her daughter on the plane to Washington. "The Eastern agent immediately took his baggage ahead of ours and put him and his family aboard the plane. When we asked why, he had no real explanation except that the governor had phoned from home to say that he was coming.

"We had purchased our daughter's ticket three weeks in advance because we knew there would be a rush of people coming home after Thanksgiving. We didn't want Ruth to be late for school, but now she will be."

☆ ☆ ☆

Gov. Scranton, a Republican, who recently defeated Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia, had seven in his party—including his three children and two of their friends. All got on the plane due out at 5:05 p.m., due in Washington at 7:10 p.m. Seven passengers were left behind in the Scranton airport as a result.

Fortunately for Gov. Scranton, some of the irate passengers lived across the line in New York. Otherwise, he would be out seven sure votes when and if he runs for office again.

☆ ☆ ☆

An unusual incident occurred in the South Dakota Senate race when Sen. Joe Bottum, temporary Republican incumbent, went on the air to give circulation to a slander against his own wife.

On the last day of the campaign, Bottum accused his opponent, George McGovern, former chairman of the Food For Peace Committee, of "soiling my wife."

A careful scrutiny of South Dakota records shows that at no time had McGovern mentioned Mrs. Bottum, nor was any literature circulated regarding her, nor did any of the McGovern staff members mention her.

However, with the charge being made so late in the campaign, it was too late for McGovern to answer it, and it lost him votes.

What the political experts are wondering is: how many Senators would throw a shadow over their own wives in order to get re-elected?

Cuba Demonstrates Arms Control Need

WASHINGTON—In the afterglow of the lurid light cast by the Cuban crisis, when the naked threat of nuclear incineration was so clear, all things wear a changed shape. It is as though the principal nations of the earth stood on a kind of plateau of indecision looking for an alternative to the desperate expedient of threat and counter-threat.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk conveyed this moment of pause before the foreign policy association in New York last week. He said that "We are on the front edge of significant and perhaps unpredictable events, a period in which some of the customary pattern of thought will have to be reviewed and perhaps revised, a process that will affect governments in all parts of the world."

The test will not be long in coming. Ambassador Arthur Dean is in Geneva to head up the American delegation as the 18-nation disarmament conference resumes. He has taken with him some new and as yet secret proposals that owe something to the Cuban crisis. These proposals are concerned with trying to establish safeguards against surprise attack and to open up swifter and more immediate channels of communication in the event of emergency.

But as so often in the past, the primary goal is a nuclear test ban agreement and the primary obstacle is the Soviet refusal to consider on-site inspection to verify whether a recorded disturbance in the earth came from a nuclear explosion or an earthquake. On this issue, the disarmament conference broke off on September 8 and referred its deliberations to the United Nations, which sponsors the conference.

Hints have come out of Moscow that the two sides are separated by only minor differences and that, therefore, an agreement to end testing — both the Soviets and the United States having concluded their latest series —is close. These hints from considerably below the level of Premier Nikita Khrushchev himself, relate in part to mechanical means for identifying tests which would do away with inspectors on the ground. On this, Rusk said:

"If the other side has instruments which can do this job through instrumentation, we would press them to come forward with them. We cannot say with complete assurance that no such instruments exist. But we don't have them. If the other side does, we would like to see them. We have urged them at least 20 times to come forward with a demonstration of the capacity to detect nuclear testing, because this is a question of fact, not necessarily of policy . . ."

☆ ☆ ☆

The conviction here at the top level of government is that the major decisions must be taken by Moscow if we are to see what Rusk called "The revolution of peace." On-site inspections—"A few," as Rusk put it—would be the first such decision. But others of even greater moment must follow.

The point heavily underscored is that a beginning must be made on something specific.

To Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain a little about an over-active thyroid gland.—MRS. A.N.B

The best explanation of the thyroid is that it is like the damper on a furnace. It controls activity.

Dr. Molner

Shut off the draft and the fire smolders along.

Open the draft and the fire roars—and so with an overactive thyroid (hyperthyroidism). Metabloism and all body processes are keyed up.

There are all degrees of this, of course. The nervous system is so stimulated as to make irritability a prominent symptom. The individual may be so nervous as to have a small, tense tremor of tongue and fingers. His skin is warm and moist; he dislikes warm rooms; tolerates cold; prefers winter to summer.

The vascular system is keyed up, too. Pulse is fast, blood pressure elevated. In time this can be exhausting to the heart, and is known as "thyrotoxic heart disease."

The body's chemistry naturally is affected. Blood sugar tends to rise, and there may be sugar in the urine, requiring care to distinguish this from diabetes. (If a diabetic develops an over-active thyroid, his sugar balance goes awry, and prompt, careful adjustment of diet and insulin is necessary.)

The body demands more protein and the patient can lose weight despite a good appetite. Calcium and phosphorus reserves in the body may be depleted.

So much for severe cases. More numerous are the subtle cases that may be overlooked. Since this trouble can occur at any age, it sometimes turns out to be the reason for a certain amount of irritability, restlessness and cantankerousness among otherwise nice old folks.

Effective treatment varies according to the case—medicine often is perfectly adequate! Sometimes part of the thyroid gland is removed surgically. The decision rests on such things as the degree of trouble, enlargement of the gland (goiter), or presence of nodules or lumps in the gland.

Fortunately there are excellent diagnostic tests: The basal metabolic rate or "BMR," based on breathing into a device which measures the amount of oxygen you use; the chemical test for "protein bound iodine" or "PBI," and the use of radioactive iodine to measure the speed at which it is taken up by the gland, hence gauging the gland's activity.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is fibrosis of the lung? Is it a lingering illness?—MRS. L.L.

Fibrosis of the lung is a technical way of saying that the tissue has been scarred. It can be from tuberculosis (in which case the scarring can be in a small area) or it can be from other causes, not always known, leading to extensive scar areas. In that case, it can cause great difficulty in breathing. Thus it can be a continuing problem or it can be of no detectable trouble at all, depending on the extent.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a teen-ager. Many veins in my feet are protruding and are becoming visible in my legs, front and back. Is this the start of varicose veins? —R.B.

Everybody has visible veins in the feet. And in the backs of the hands. These aren't varicose; they are just close to the surface. Stop looking at your own feet and look at the feet of people your age. You'll see that I'm right and that you are worrying over nothing.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: I have read where sugar and candy can dull the mind and give indigestion. Is this so? —H.M.

No. Just one of those made-up scare stories such as the old and disproved fable that smoking will "stunt your growth." Tell you what sugar and candy will do, though, if you eat too much. They can make you fat and can be rough on your teeth.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it wise to have long-haired cats and dogs around asthmatic and arrested TB cases? —B.W.

For tuberculosis this is not a matter of any significance. For asthmatic cases, it depends on whether the patients are sensitive to animal danders. A few are.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please write about "butterfly erythema of the face."—MRS. J.W.F.

This is a rash across the bridge of the nose and cheeks and is suggestive of lupus erythematosis. Such rashes are aggravated by exposure to the sun.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Brevity in letters is requested, but length in itself will have no bearing on publication. Writers are advised that needless details and repetitious matter will be edited out of letters. Too frequent contributions from one person on the same subject may be rejected. All letters must be accompanied by writer's true name but may be submitted for publication under a pen name or initials. However, letters will be printed under a pen name or initials only at the editor's discretion.

Easing The Burden

North Loup, Neb.

Elderly people in Nebraska will watch with keen personal interest what the Legislature does with the proposed McClelland study about a state income tax as a substitute for the present property tax for the support of state government.

The ratio of old folks to the total population is greater in Nebraska than in any other state and, probably, in any other place in the world. Because of age and infirmity, these citizens have outlived their capacity to produce or to earn. The tendency has been for them to retire from the farms and villages to the larger cities for needful medical and hospital care. The increasing, confiscatory real estate taxes are gradually absorbing their equities in their longtime humble homes. They would like to have the younger men who enjoy substantial net incomes carry a heavier share of the cost of government, especially the schools.

When I bought a new house 40 years ago, I paid $66 total taxes. As of now, I must pay more than twice that amount for school support alone. A sales tax, with groceries and farm machinery excepted, might go a long way in easing the burden where it hurts most.

Many old people retired before the Social Security program reached them. They are pridefully reluctant to file poverty affidavits and accept public assistance, thereby inviting liens on the small homes that have become a way of life.

Tax Repeal

Palo Alto, Calif.

Why should a man's labor be taxed by one powerful centralized body, leaving no individual choice in the different states? Is this efficient, and the only way of taxation?

Why is it that private enterprise is bound to be cost-conscious while the federal government manages to accumulate a national debt of $300 billion, which means more than $100 interest per productive member per year after the year 1913?

I believe the elimination of freedom of choice and progressive killing of personal incentive are evils; that free competitive elements are the best regulators to level out abuse and to promote the wealth of a nation.

In 1787 it was understood that wherever there is government, there is waste. So we find in Article 1, Sec. 9 of the Constitution: "No capitation or other direct, tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinfore directed to be taken."

This system of taxing the states based on natural law with competing state governments put the law of self-interest into effect to limit abuse, spending and taxes. It prevented centralization of power so that the individual was not controlled either politically and economically. State governments had to be attractive because if the citizens did not like it in one state, they could move to a other.

Today six states have started the rebirth of "the Republic for which it stands" by adopting the "Liberty Amendment" which will repeal the 16th Amendment of 1913 and will cut government spending by one-half. The individual income tax should be repealed.

Remember The Past

Lincoln, Neb.

The City of St. Louis is remaking itself through urban renewal and other things.

Now it is considering the preservation of some of its past. Its transit authority has been asked to restore one trolley car line from a downtown square to the river front. The people of St. Louis like their modernized city with its advanced business structures and throughways, but they are also aware that they live in an ancient town and should not forget it.

A community that keeps its history visible, even if it is just a trolley line or, like San Francisco, its cable cars, is a community of deep character. What would New Orleans be without its old French Quarter?

Rapidly growing Lincoln could well consider saving some attractive part of itself. It is suggested that our city planners keep in mind that a little looking backward is as important as looking forward. While there are still landmarks here and living memories of old Lincoln is the time to act.

Missiles In Cuba

Lake Worth, Fla.

I have noticed several articles and letters recently in the Florida papers discussing missiles in Cuba and offering reliable underground information that the Reds got away with their notorious habit of cheating on every occasion in the missile deal.

If the missiles really were out of Cuba, Castro would have everything to gain and nothing to lose by inviting an inspection of every square foot of his island.

Pork Barrel

Oxford, Neb.

What was State Engineer John Hossack trying to say in Tuesday morning's Star when he warned about the granting of numerous small addition requests? Suppose communities did clamor for their share of state road money? Would this cause a pork barrel program?

P. S. What IS a pork barrel program?

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Elders Deplore Increase In Juvenile Crime Rate

By ROBERT PETERSON

Several readers have rapped me for reviving that ancient quote from Socrates, who in eloquent terms deplored the manners and disrespect for authority of youth in his era. In concluding my piece on the subject I ventured that elders of each generation deplore the manners and attitudes of each new crop of juveniles, and that if we recognize this human tendency we may find it easier to live with the younger generation.

Writes Mrs. Milton Bernhart of Burbank, Calif., "Sure, the youth of Socrates' era may have had poor manners and disrespect for authority. But did they use narcotics, beat up elderly women, mug respectable citizens on the streets, and turn city parks into places of terror?

"No, I believe something sinister is taking place among a segment of our young, and I don't believe it's senility on my part. I believe that somehow in the past few decades parents have lost their sense of responsibility. They have come to feel it unnecessary to get strict standards and teach children the meaning of discipline."

She may be right. Although history suggests that age is traditionally critical of youth, there is evidence that juvenile crime levels are spiraling—despite the fact that we have more churches, youth clubs and schools than ever before. Even Attorney General Robert Kennedy has said that unless something happens to change the trend, juvenile crime may erupt as our nation's major problem. Do any wise elders have any suggestions for checking this appalling trend?

Considerable response ensued when this column printed a letter from a young man who is peeved because his parents, who spent their $4,000 nest egg on his college education, have advised that they'd like him to repay the sum now that he's married and settled in a good job. My comment was that this seemed an entirely reasonable request considering that the parents were now retired and living on limited retirement income.

One reader writes, "Please follow this up for we are anxious to know if we have a big untapped goldmine. We sent 5 children through college and it never occurred to us that they should repay us. Let's see—that would come to about $20,000. Should we go to court and collect? Are you trying to tell us that children who want to go to college should finance it themselves?"

It's my feeling that parents should do what they can to finance higher educations for their children, but they should not impoverish themselves in the process. If parents are in lower economic brackets, children should (a) be willing to work their way through college—something which any ambitious, reasonably bright youngster can still do, (b) accept parental help only with the understanding that they will make every effort to repay the sum one day so their parents will not be deprived of financial security in their old age.

Many people are less content than they should be, simply because that they erroneously believe others to be more content. This human trait is well expressed by Montesquieu who said, "If one only wished to be happy, this could be easily accomplished; but we wish to be happier than other people, and this is always difficult for we believe others to be happier than they really are."

Increase Reported In Use Of Educational TV

More than 12% of Nebraska's school children are viewing educational telecast produced by the Nebraska Council for Educational Television, the council has reported in its November monthly newsletter.

Over 35,000 students from kindergarten through the eighth grade view weekly telecasts in children's literature, science, arithmetic, social studies and French, it said.

Eight new schools have joined the Nebraska council for the 1962-63 school year, bringing total membership to 34 school systems.

The newsletter said the new schools are Aurora, Bertrand, Broken Bow, David City, Doniphan, Kearney State Teachers College, Ogallala and Valparaiso.

India, Red China Both Seeking Support Of Nonaligned Nations

New Delhi, India (AP) — A week after the Himalayan front fell silent in a cease-fire, India and Red China pressed their undeclared war Wednesday with diplomatic drives for the support of nonaligned nations.

Delegations and messages dispatched from New Delhi and Peking vied for the backing of 5 countries invited by Ceylon to attend a conference — tentatively set for early December — to seek a solution of the India-China border conflict.

The countries are the United Arab Republic, Ghana, Burma, Indonesia and Cambodia, all of whom at one time at least accepted India as a bellwether of the nonaligned bloc. It was announced here Burma and Indonesia have accepted the invitations.

Speculation of the possible Russian role in the Indian maneuvering was aroused by a disclosure that the Soviet Charge d' Affaires met Prime Minister Nehru Tuesday evening. A government spokesman said he had no knowledge of whether the Russian gave Nehru a message from Moscow or received an Indian message.

In Peking, Foreign Minister Chen Yi affairmed that Chinese troops are withdrawing Saturday — as his government announced in its Nov. 21 cease-fire proclamation — to positions 12½ miles behind "the line of actual control of Nov. 7, 1959."

Accusing India of using force in attempts to settle the border dispute, he said in a statement broadcast by the New China News Agency that these attempts have proved futile "and will prove futile in the future."

Even as Peking relayed Chen's words, a squadron of American-manned C130 Hercules transports on loan to India droned back and forth in a continuing airlift to strengthen India's Himalayan lines with fresh supplies and reinforcements. Prime Minister Nehru's government was trying feverishly to rebuild its forces against the possibility of a renewal of the fighting.

A defense ministry spokesman announced more than 5,000 troops cut off by the Chinese flanking movement in the Se Pass-Bomdila sector have now returned to the main Indian positions.

India continued to avoid a direct formal reply to the Chinese cease-fire proclamation.

In delaying actions designed to win time for regrouping, it has already obtained one set of clarifications from China. The government is expected to ask for another while waiting to see whether the Chinese really withdraw.

ENVOY TRYING TO CALM PAKISTAN

Rawalpindi, Pakistan, (UPI) — Averell Harriman, President Kennedy's special envoy on the Sino-Indian crisis, arrived here Wednesday to try to calm Pakistan's ire over U.S. arms shipments to India.

Harriman said progress is being made toward settling the problems between Pakistan and India, including Kashmir.

"I certainly hope nothing happens to change this," the assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs told newsmen. "I found in Delhi many people concentrating on problems arising from Chinese aggression."

Harriman flew in from New Delhi, where he headed a fact-finding mission studying India's needs for its border war with Communist China. He will confer on the crisis with President Mohammad Ayub Khan Thursday.

The U.S. envoy said he and Ayub would discuss the situation created by the Sino-Indian fighting "and how it relates to the security of Pakistan and the entire subcontinent."

Duncan Sandys, British secretary of Commonwealth relations, has been discussing the same subject with Pakistani officials since his arrival Tuesday after a visit to India.

SPAGHETTI MAKES YOUR MENU

SPAGHETTI SUBLIME

Yield: 4 to 5 servings

4 strips bacon
1 pound chicken livers
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons Gooch's Best Enriched Flour
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped celery
1 10½-ounce can condensed tomato soup
1 10½-ounce can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 cup milk
1½ teaspoons seasoned salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
⅛ teaspoon crushed rosemary leaves
6 ounces Gooch's Best Italian or Long Spaghetti
½ cup crushed potato chips

Fry bacon until crisp. Drain on paper towel. Crumble bacon into small pieces. Combine flour, 1 teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Roll chicken livers in seasoned flour. Cook in bacon fat until browned. Remove chicken livers from skillet. Saute onion and celery for 5 minutes. Add soups, milk and seasonings. Simmer for 15 minutes. Add cooked chicken livers. Cook spaghetti as package directs. Drain. Place cooked spaghetti in serving dish and pour hot sauce over spaghetti. Sprinkle top with crushed potato chips and crumbled bacon. Serve immediately.

Clayton Laird, Hayes Center, Champ Exhibitor Of Nebraska Winter Wheat

Hastings — A Hayes County wheat producer, Clayton Laird of Hayes Center, was revealed as grand champion exhibitor in the winter wheat market division of the 1962 Nebraska Wheat Show here Thursday morning.

Laird's sample of Bison variety wheat topped other exhibits from the western region in the "strong gluten" class of the winter wheat market division. It was then judged superior to other winning exhibits in both the yellow and strong gluten classes. The Laird entry had a test weight of 61.4 pounds per bushel, a protein content of 12.8%, and a sedimentation test score of 66.

The reserve championship in the market wheat division of the show was annexed by Frank Schultz of Milligan with an entry of Omaha variety wheat. Schultz' entry placed at the top of the "mellow gluten" class of exhibitors from the eastern region of Nebraska. It posted a test weight of 61.4 pounds, protein percentage of 13.6%, and a sedimentation test score of 69.

A portion of each of the top-rated market wheat samples was milled and baked, an additional test emphasizing quality not carried out in previous years.

In the certified seed division, Saline County wheat producer Frank J. Papik of Dorchester was named grand champion and Ron Kennedy of Kimball was reserve champion with entries of Omaha and Warrior wheat, respectively.

Laird, the top showman in market wheat competition, was awarded a plaque by the Omaha Elevator Co., and a U.S. Savings Bond by the United States National Bank of Omaha. The reserve champion exhibitor of market wheat, Schultz, was awarded a plaque by the Nebraska Grain Improvement Association, the show sponsor.

The grand champion exhibitor of certified seed wheat, Papik, received a plaque from the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben and a U.S. Savings bond from Miller Seed Co. of York. The reserve champion, Kennedy, received a plaque from the Nebraska Grain Improvement Association.

First and second place winners in the various classes who received honorable mention with their entries:

Market wheat division—Donald Luttich, Ohiowa, (Omaha variety); Conrad Kehn, Gering, (Cheyenne variety); Robert M. Loskill, Juniata, (Bison); Robert L. Felzein, Juniata, (Omaha); Robert M. Loskill, Juniata, (Omaha); Alvin H. Meyer, Chester, (Bison).

Certified Seed Division—Dennis Svec, Rogers, (Omaha); Roland Christensen, Minden, (Omaha); Robert L. Felzein, Juniata, (Omaha); and John H. Watson, Alliance, (Warrior).

Final placings in the wheat show's junior division:

Market Wheat: Strong gluten class—Bob Barrett, Kimball FFA; Robert Kelly, Indianaola 4-H; Mellow Gluten—Frank Schultz, Milligan 4-H.

Barley Division: Ronnie Nygren, Newman Grove 4-H.

Grain Sorghum: Erwin L. Kimminau, Bostwick FFA.

Oats: Ronald Pavlik, Verdigre FFA.

Soybean: Paul Meyer, West Point FFA.

LIMA CONTROL TOWER ORDERED FATED AIRLINER TO CIRCLE

Lima, Peru (AP)—The Lima control tower disclosed Wednesday a Los Angeles-bound Brazilian jetliner which carried 97 persons to death in the Andes had executed a circling maneuver under tower orders before the crash early Tuesday.

The pilot, Capt. Edu Michel, was instructed to make a turn of 360 degrees to await the takeoff of an Air France plane from Lima's International Airport, the tower said.

Michel complied. Then came a blackout of radio communications between the Varig Air Lines jet and the tower. The $5 million plane—a U.S. built Boeing 707 — smashed into 2,400-foot La Cruz peak, 15 miles south of Lima, and disintegrated.

Just how these circumstances fit in with an airline report of the final contacts remained to be determined. A Varig spokesman in New York said Tuesday:

"The captain had asked for clearance to land. Everything was apparently going normally. Three minutes later, we understand, the captain declared 'this is an emergency.' This is the last we heard of the plane."

Francisco Sagasti Miller, a Varig official, said the plane was new and in perfect condition. He said the pilot had never reported any trouble with it and the crew was experienced.

The airline's chairman, Ruben Berta, is here with 34 Brazilian technicians to join Boeing and Peruvian experts in seeking the reason for the accident. He said the plane was insured and all passengers also were insured under the Warsaw Convention, but did not disclose the total.

Physicians, soldiers and policemen pursued the taxing task of lowering from the blackened crash area the bodies of the 80 passengers—including 19 listed as Americans—and 17 crew members. Most were burned or mutilated beyond recognition.

Police arrested a number of persons on charges of trying to steal personal belongings and plane parts in the hours immediately following discovery of the wreckage.

Judge Reverses His Ruling; Orders Trial For Newsman

Birmingham, Ala. (AP) — In a stunning reversal, Judge Francis Thompson ordered trial Wednesday of newspaper editor James E. Mills on charges of violating an Alabama election law.

Thompson Wednesday morning upheld a motion by Mills' attorneys to dismiss the case. But the Jefferson County Criminal Court jurist reversed himself Wednesday afternoon.

Thompson did not elaborate on either ruling.

Mills, editor of the Birmingham Post-Herald, is charged with electioneering and soliciting votes by publication of an editorial election day, Nov. 6, urging voters to adopt a proposal to change the form of Birmingham's city government. The proposal carried.

Under Alabama's corrupt practices act, it is unlawful to solicit votes on election day. Maximum penalty on conviction of the charge, a misdemeanor, is $500 fine or 6 months in jail.

Thompson asked lawyers to stipulate facts on which they agree and to settle on a trial date.

Both sides had wanted to appeal this earlier ruling to get an Alabama Supreme Court decision on constitutionality of the corrupt practices act as it applies to freedom of speech and freedom of the press.

Kenneth Perrine, Mills' attorney, had filed a demurrer challenging validity of the complaint. Thompson sustained the demurrer and circuit solicitor Emmett Perry immediately filed an amended complaint.

Mrs. Eikleberry Named To Head Advisory Group

Mrs. Kara Lee Eikleberry of Lincoln has been named chairman of the Governor's Advisory Committee to the Departments of Public Institutions and Welfare.

She succeeded Arthur Carmody of Trenton, who resigned.

Donald W. Duncan of Lincoln, former committee secretary, was named vice chairman, and John Humpal of Omaha replaced Duncan as secretary.

Governor Morrison recently named the Rev. Luvern C. Hicks of Scottsbluff to succeed Carmody. The other member of the 5-member committee is George J. Buglewicz of Grand Island.

February Deadline To Get Easements

. . . FOR SALT-WAHOO

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Salt-Wahoo Watershed District board of directors Wednesday was given a Feb. 1, 1963 deadline date for acquisition of easements on 3 proposed U.S. Soil Conservation Service dams on the Upper Salt.

Otherwise, C. Dale Jaedicke of the SCS told the board, his agency will be unable to obligate federal funds now available before the conclusion of this fiscal year.

Jaedicke said he preferred to have an answer "one way or another" by the middle of January.

Ray Judah of Hickman, who has been negotiating with landowners at the 3 proposed sites, said he should have the answers within 10 days.

Directors are expected to take action, which might include condemnation proceedings, at their next regular monthly meeting Dec. 19.

Jaedicke said he would immediately begin surveys and investigations at the sites once condemnation procedures were initiated.

"But I am reluctant to spend funds until I can see some easements coming," he pointed out.

At issue are 3 Lancaster County dams near Lincoln. Negotiations with landowners at two of the sites may yet be successful, Judah indicated.

In other action, Salt Wahoo directors gave the go-ahead to proposed construction of Dam 14 northwest of Emerald despite protests from two persons, one of whom is a tenant in the affected area.

One had questioned the right of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to acquire land in the area, particularly for recreational purposes.

However, Salt-Wahoo General Manager Hal Schroeder told the board, "There appears to be no question in the corps about its authority to acquire the land."

Norman Gau, Omaha District project engineer for the corps, reported that engineering on proposed channel improvements through Lincoln is now "practically completed."

The plans will be revealed in the near future, he said.

A scheduled air tour of Salt-Wahoo projects was postponed due to inclement weather.

Grid Film To Cleric

Toronto (AP) — A film of Canada's top football attraction, the Dec. 1 Grey Cup game, will be sent to Regina Archbishop M. C. O'Neill at the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council in Rome, CFTO television reports. The archbishop was senior chaplain overseas in World War II.

Women Hear Civil Defense Briefing Here

Some 53 state presidents and representatives of 44 women's organizations attended the meeting Wednesday of the Nebraska Women's Civil Defense Council.

"This meeting was one of two we have each year," said Mrs. Melba M. Scott, co-ordinator of women's activities "and is a briefing to bring the women of Nebraska up to date on civil defense operations."

The national and regional briefing was given by Ren Read, of Denver, Colo., regional director os civil defense. State briefing was given by Maj. Gen. Lyle Welch, Nebraska civil defense director.

The meeting was called by Gen. Welch when "the very grave international crises forcibly brought to the attention of the American people the question of personal, family, community and government survival."

Gen. Welch said it has brought more clearly into focus the role that civil defense plays on every level of government in assisting in the development of survival planning through our country.

Library Science Class Slated At Wesleyan

An evening class in library science will be offered next semester at Wesleyan University.

Librarian Ted Kneebone said the class will help to fulfill the state requirement that anyone in charge of a library in an accredited school must have a library science minor.

The course, on library materials selection, will be taught from 7-10 p.m. each Thursday, beginning January 31, Kneebone said.

Two other courses that will meet the library science minor requirements not being offered at Nebraska Wesleyan, will be taught this summer. They are Library reference materials and Library classification and cataloging.

Students Take Over County Offices

Lancaster County high school juniors invaded and took over county offices Wednesday at the 16th annual Boys' and Girls' County Government Day sponsored by the county and the American Legion.

Having campaigned for the offices and been elected in their respective schools, the 199 students toured all the offices including the newly completed cell-block of the County Jail.

Lancaster District Judge Herbert Ronin told the students that "indifefrence and ignorance" are the enemies of the democratic process.

TIMIDITY BARS USEFUL NUCLEAR EXPLOSIONS

Washington (AP) — Only political timidity, lack of imagination and enterprise are preventing the United States from using nuclear explosions to create inexpensive harbors and canals, a top scientist said Wednesday.

Dr. Edward Teller, a prime developer of the H-bomb, said the cost of large earth moving projects would be one-tenth to one twentieth as expensive by nuclear means as they would by conventional means.

He spoke to newsmen before delivering a talk on this subject to the American Nuclear Society, meeting in Wshington.

Water on Moon

One other possible use of nuclear explosions for peaceful purposes he said, might be in obtaining water in the moon.

When man gets to the moon —and he surely will, Teller said— he is going to have a great need for water. Water he carries with him may well cost him its weight in gold.

But there is probably some water bound tightly in lunar rocks. A nuclear explosion a few hundred feet beneath the moon's surface could boil off a few hundred tons of water, releasing it from the rock, he said.

But there are more immediate uses on earth.

Only One

There is only one good harbor today in the Hawaiian Islands, the scientist continued. All of the islands except Oahu are either undeveloped or underdeveloped. A harbor could be blasted into the shore of one of the less populated places for only about $1 million, he said.

However the people in Hawaii say "do it somewhere else first," Teller added.

All of the projects to make peaceful use of nuclear blasting power are lumped together in Project Plowshare. Teller said he and his associates at the University of California's Livermore Radiation Laboratory have been studying such uses since 1957.

Many Uses

There are many possible uses, including the blasting of canals—perhaps across Malaya or between the Tennessee and Tombigbee rivers in the United States. Nuclear explosions could also be used to strip off the hundreds of feet of top soil covering mining deposits.

In the panhandle of Alaska, he said, there is a good coal deposit —but it is separated from good bulk transportation by a glacier. It might be possible to create a closer harbor by nuclear means— allowing development of the deposits, Teller said.

Perhaps then the United States could sell coal to Japan, cheaper than coal it now sell and transports from Pennsylvania, he added. This would make the Japanese first to benefit from nuclear explosions just as they were the first to suffer from them, Teller said.

Moratorium

The nuclear testing moratorium has hindered development of truly clean nuclear bombs, he said, but added that today they are a lot cleaner — that is leave less radioactivity — than earlier nuclear bombs.

Even with the more primitive variety, Teller said, it would have been possible to blast a harbor and enter the area in a few weeks encountering minimal radioactivity. With cleaner weapons, it is now possible to shorten the time when the area could be entered, he said.

BISHOPS IN ROME

West Denounces Red Tactics

Geneva (AP)— A Soviet accusation that the United States and Britain were preparing new underground nuclear tests in defiance of world opinion Wednesday drew a Western cross-fire denouncing Kremlin tactics.

U.S. chief delegate Arthur H. Dean demanded the Russians halt their "negative and unconstructive maneuvers" to block a meaningful test ban treaty.

Soviet delegate Semyon Tsarapkin leveled his accusation at a meeting of the 17-nation disarmament conference's 3-power subcommittee. He was quoted as saying:

Quite Obvious

"It is quite obvious that neither the United States nor the United Kingdom intend to cease underground testing. Everyone knows new tests in Nevada are being prepared."

Prime Minister Macmillan announced recently that Britain would fire off one small underground shot on the U.S. testing range in Nevada. Members of Britain's opposition Labor Party touched off a storm in the House of Commons by contending this test would be conducted at the worst possible time, just after the Americans and Russians announced conclusion of a test series. Macmillan explained that it was impossible to arrange for the British blast earlier.

In the Western view the Russians have blocked all progress in the conference by coupling a demand for an end to all testing with a blanket refusal to allow any on-site inspections.

Dean, in his speech to the subcommittee, denied that the West wanted to use on-site inspections to spy on the Soviet Union. He said every possible safeguard had been written into the Western draft to avoid just such a thing.

Sweden proposed an immediate test ban based on arrangements which would sidestep for the time being the difficult underground policing problem.

The United States and Britain rejected any proposal for an unpoliced moratorium.

Dean told newsmen the Swedes seemed to want some interim international control machinery manned by professors and declared the United States would not go "into any thing on a half baked, amateurish basis."

Pressure is building up for an end of all nuclear tests by New Year's day. Yet the United States and Britain do not want to be steamrollered into arrangments which would provide no on-site inspections of suspicious under ground disturbances.

Education Official Says Major Need Is Strong Morals

A State Department of Education official notes that a major need "is fortifying youth against those inroads which tend to undermine the morality of young America and produce a morally decadent nation."

George Rotter, curriculum coordinator of the department, said more homes are needed—where parents know where their children are and what they are doing; where parents teach their children to accept responsibilities; where children are taught respect for authority and where religion is regarded with proper respect.

One of the developments in American education, Rotter said, has been to teach high school youth about the dangers and fallacies of communism. A part of such teaching should help young people, he added, to learn how to be good anti-communists.

Blaze Damages Ralston Building

Ralston (AP)—The Flynn Paving Co. near Ralston was damaged by fire Wednesday.

Fire Chief G. E. Shively said the blaze was in the boiler room, where the firm pre-heats its oil. The fire, he added, was confined for the most part to one area.

The building is of corrugated metal. No estimate of the damage was immediately available. Shively said the cause was under investigation.

State Gets $140,000 More Aid

An additional $140,000 has been authorized for emergency public works in 19 northeast Nebraska counties hit by floods last spring.

A copy of the telegram from President Kennedy to the director of the office of emergency planning authorizing the funds was received by Gov. Frank Morrison Wednesday.

The money will be in addition to $340,000 already received for emergency repairs of essential public facilities in the 19 counties. The governor had requested $158,500 extra.

The counties are Boyd, Dodge, Burt, Dixon, Thurston, Colfax, Sarpy, Madison, Cass, Pierce, Washington, Dakota, Knox, Douglas, Valley, Stanton, Cedar, Wheeler and Rock.

Lightning turns out about 100 million tons of fixed nitrogen a year.

BURNEY NOT NOW THINKING OF '64 RACE

Republican Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney of Hartington says he is not thinking at this time of running for governor in 1964.

A constitutional amendment approved by Nebraska voters this month permits the lieutenant governor to run for governor if he wishes.

The 70-year-old Burney said too many things have been happening to permit him to give much thought to the possibility of a gubernatorial race. Burney's wife died recently.

Ed Official Says School Redistricting Slow

Although 194 school districts have been eliminated in Nebraska this year, the State Education official in charge of school reorganization work, Hubert Wolfe, says, "It's been a disappointing year in terms of creating a more efficient organization of school districts to meet educational problems in Nebraska."

The state had 3,078 districts as of Oct. 1, compared with 3,272 a year earlier. Sometime next year the number is expected to drop below 3,000.

But Wolfe noted that only two redistricting plans dependent upon voter approval were successful during the year. One such election dissolved 9 rural districts and merged them with Niobrara. The other consolidated 3 rural districts in Holt County.

Wolfe noted that of the 194 districts eliminated, only 77 had actually operated schools in the previous year.

He cited as the year's highlights 6 districts going to Creighton, 8 and portions of two others to Crete, 4 to Crofton, 3 to Red Cloud and the merger of the Dakota City - South Sioux City districts.

Normal Board Meeting Date, Place Changed

The State Normal Board meeting, which had been scheduled for next Monday on the Wayne State Teachers College campus, will be held instead Dec. 5 in Lincoln.

Freeman Decker, Normal Board coordinator, said the meeting will follow the board's budget presentation before Governor Morrison.

During the afternoon the board will hear a representative of the Teachers Insurance Annuity Association explain his organization's institutional retirement program.

Mississippi Schools Hit By Probation, Warning

Dallas (AP) — The powerful Southern Association of Colleges and Schools put Mississippi's state colleges and universities on strict probation Wednesday with a warning that accreditation may be lifted at any time.

The action was, in effect, a blunt "hands off" warning to the state legislature, politicians, and pressure groups such as the white citizens councils. It also was a demand that student discipline on the campuses be maintained.

It stemmed directly from the riots on the University of Mississippi campus two months ago when Negro James Meredith was admitted, and the charge that Gov. Ross Barnett and other state officials had illegally interfered with the university administration at that time.

The association's college delegate assembly unanimously adopted by voice vote a proposal that the state institutions in Mississippi "be place under continued and careful observation."

There will be "immediate and rigorous re-examination of the accredited status of the institutions," it said, "if there is evidence of:

1. "Any weakening of the constitutional board (the board of trustees).
2. "Any encroachment by pressure groups, investigating committees or other agencies, as judged by normal standards, upon the freedom of the faculty, the administration, or the students to learn and teach.
3. "Any manipulation of appropriation bills as a punitive measure or as undue influence upon internal operations of the institutions or any of them.
4. "Failure of the administration and faculty to maintain through normal student discipline a climate conducive to intellectual pursuits."

Interstate Hwy. Spending Ratio Is 76 Rural, 24 Urban

The latest available Department of Roads report showed Wednesday that the ratio of rural to urban spending on the Interstate highway in Nebraska is running about 76 to 24.

A State Highway Commission formula provides that 77% of Nebraska's Interstate funds under project agreement with the federal government be spent for rural projects, and 23% for urban projects.

State Engineer John Hossack's quarterly report showed that as of Sept. 30, $26,816,908 was under project agreement for urban work, $83,386,007 for rural projects.

Convict Tries Suicide While Going To Pen

A West Lincoln man, sentenced Wednesday to 4 years in the State Penitentiary on a sodomy charge, apparently attempted to commit suicide by jumping out of a deputy sheriff's car en route to the Penitentiary.

Deputy Sheriff Harlan Kendle said Lawrence Lafler opened the car door and started to throw himself out head first into the path of an approaching truck.

Kendle said he pulled the convict back in by his feet and that Lafler angrily said, "Damn you, I'm going to kill myself whether you like it or not."

Lafler had to be handcuffed inside the Penitentiary and told authorities there he intended to kill himself, according to Kendle.

Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele had sentenced Lafler Wednesday after the defendant entered a guilty plea Nov. 5 to a June 15 incident involving a 15-year-old Lincoln boy.

Sentence Vagabond To Perform

Statesville, N.C. (AP) — A vagabond harmonica player will have to continue serenading members of a prison work gang with Christmas music, despite efforts Wednesday to pay his $50 fine and court costs.

James C. Lavery, 44, who said he was born in Danville, Ill., was convicted Monday by City Court Judge Jack R. Harris on a charge of vagrancy. When the judge heard Lavery play a harmonica he decided the itinerate musician could pay his fine by playing Christmas music for fellow inmates at the rate of $1 an hour.

Fred Crawford of Salisbury, 26 miles east of here, offered to pay Lavery's fine Wednesday, but Judge Harris said that since Lavery failed to produce the fine when sentended Monday it would have to stand. Crawford also wanted to have Lavery over for a turkey dinner.

Lavery also told newsmen he could play a guitar, but couldn't borrow one. J. Pierce VanHoys, chairman of the Union Grove Fiddlers Convention, said Wednesday he would provide Lavery "the best guitar that traveling musicians ever borrowed."

While offers of financial help and musical instuments came to city police, Lavery was playing such favorites as "Jingle Bells" and "Here Comes Santa Claus" for members of the city's work gang as the prisoners installed a storm sewer along a Statesville street.

It all started Nov. 21 when Lavery went looking for a Thanksgiving dinner. He said he asked for directions to the Salvation Army but a prankster directed him to be police station.

Once there, he said he kidded officers about looking for "a big turkey dinner . . . but I guess they took it the wrong way." The police said he was a vagrant and he spent the holiday weekend in jail.

In city court Monday, Lavery told Judge Harris he was only a happy, itinerant musician with a 50-cent harmonica. The judge listened to "Moonlight and Roses" and then pronounced sentence.

Lavery describes himself as "just an old road agent who's bummed his way all over the country."

In his early years, Lavery said he played his harmonica and a guitar in Chicago night spots.

The 5-foot-3 Lavery said he has never been in jail before. But he wasn't complaining.

"I'm happy and the work isn't too hard," he said.

Wants His Pension

Lueneberg, Germany (UPI) —Franz Schlegelberger, 86, Adolf Hitler's former acting justice minister, went before an administrative court here in a new round of his legal battle against a 1959 decision to stop his monthly government pension of nearly $750.

Agate Fossils Awe Scientists

... Rich Bone Layer Goes On Display

Agate—Not much more than a holler from this little ranch community in western Nebraska, two hills rise out of the prairie-like ancient pyramids overgrown with native grasses and exquisite wild flowers.

Isolated, they punctuate the beauty of green velvet carpet and hazy blue mirage and are known as University and Carnegie Hills. Running through them is a motherlode of fossils so rich that scientists speak of them with awe.

A movement is now under way, supported by scientists at the University of Nebraska State Museum, to make the Agate area a national park.

The museum has just placed on display in Lincoln a small portion of the rich bone layer, a 2,000-pound slab of soft sandstone encasing the bones of prehistoric rhinoceros that roamed Nebraska during Miocene time, roughly 16 million years ago.

Most Nebraskans have never seen or heard of the two hills. Precious few tourists have seen the little American flag flying near here. They and a few stamp collectors might recall only that agate is one of the few fourth class post offices left in the United States.

Few are those living who remember Agate as the home of Capt. James Cook, Indian scout, guide, cattleman, author and amateur bone collector extraordinary, a man who came from a long line of adventurers.

But students of ancient life the world over, whether they know much about Nebraska or not, do know of the Agate Spring Fossil Quarries in the hills, for this is believed the richest single location for ancient Miocene mammal fossils in the world.

Dr. C. Bertrand Schultz, vertebrate paleontologist and director of the University of Nebraska State Museum, said the bone layer is from 3 to 20 inches thick. The fossils are so closely packed that the layer has been described as a "pavement of bones" in the scientific literature.

Seized in the rock are the bones of rhinos, the queer claw-footed distant relative of horses, and the giant dinohyus (cousin to the swine) with a yard-long skull and measuring 6 feet tall at the withers.

The fossils in this cattle country have fascinated men for as long as anyone can remember. Old Chief Red Cloud told of the "stone bones" and wore a huge, agatized molar of a fossil around his neck.

Captain Cook is believed to be the first white man to see them, or at least to know what they were. After he told about them in 1891, scientists, including men from the University of Nebraska, Yale, Harvard, the Carnegie Museum and American Museum of Natural History converged on the area.

Dr. Schultz explains that the deposits are so rich that a bone count on one slab removed revealed an average of about 100 bones compressed per square foot. Most of the world's noted vertebrate paleontologists have, at one time or another, visited the site. The late Dr. Harold Cook, son of Captain Cook and himself a paleontologist, studied in the area for years.

Dr. Schultz said the University and the people of the state are fortunate to have the outstanding slab for display, an exhibit which was once at the Scottsbluff National Monument, curated by the National Park Service. Walter Behlen, Columbus industrialist, provided the funds for preparation and transportation of the slab which weighed three tons before a portion of the matrix was removed at the university.

Pharmacy Society Initiates Members

The University of Nebraska chapter of Kappa Psi, national honorary fraternity for pharmacy students, has initiated 23 new active members.

Only students in pharmacy with minimum 5.0 grade averages are eligible for this society.

Gary A. Anderson, Wausa; James R. Barta, Red Cloud; Phillip G. Beck, York; Bruce O. Bundy, Gibbon; John J. Clark, Shelton; James B. Copple, Gothenburg; Gene F. Cunningham, Fullerton; Larry H. Forsberg, Kearney; Richard C. Haase, Lincoln; Keith G. Heidemann, Seward; Stephen P. Hinrichs, Sidney; David J. Horejsi, Schuyler; Raymond R. Jacobson, Smithville, Mo.; Gary D. Jurgenson, West Point; Ray W. Lambert, Lincoln; Francis A. Lindell, Douglas; Lorin E. Lingenfelter, Magnet; Carroll F. Newman, Alliance; Thomas G. O'Neill, Sargent; Harlan J. Smith, Lincoln; Tom M. Sweet, Clarks; Robert J. Valdez, Wahoo; and Larry L. Vonderfecht, Clatonia.

Officers of the chapter for this year are Thomas Cunningham, Monroe, Wis., regent; Ben Copple, Gothenburg, vice-regent; Lance Mikkelsen, Kenesaw, secretary; Jerry Schaaf, Lincoln, treasurer; and Dale Muff, Morse Bluff, historian. The group's advisor is Dr. R. D. Gibson, dean of the College of Pharmacy.

A Merry, Merry Pace Around The Town

Our comment yesterday that Lincoln is busy was a masterpiece of understatement. We find that the hustle and bustle we mention has gained momentum and is rushing along at a pace that is merry—but mad.

There are all sorts of parties for all sorts of reasons —to compliment a bride—to say goodbye—and just-for-fun dine and dance affairs.

We'll begin with the bride-elect—Miss Kitty McDonald —who has chosen Saturday, Dec. 22, for her marriage to Norman Beatty. The ceremony will take place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at St. Matthews Church, Episcopal.

This morning Miss McDonald makes announcement of the bridal entourage. Her matron of honor will be her sister, Mrs. Paul Jordan of Brunswick, Ga., and the bridesmaid foursome will include Miss Judy Marshall. Miss Barbara Miller, both of Omaha; Miss Sara Fentress of Hemingford, and Miss Sally Larson of Bertrand.

Small Miss Rebecca Jordan of Brunswick, Ga., will be the flower girl.

Myron Beatty of Laurel will serve as best man, and the ushers will be Ivan Grupe of Byron; Richard Creighton of Jeannette, Pa.; Daniel McDonald and Michael McDonald.

* * *

A new series of courtesies for Miss McDonald begins on Saturday when Mrs. Walt Weaver compliments her cousin with a luncheon at the University Club. Luncheon places will be arranged for 12, and the bride-elect will be presented with a bathroom shower.

And on Sunday Miss Cynthia Holmquist and Miss Kathryn Madsen will pay courtesy to their Delta Gamma sister when they are brunch hostesses at the Colonial Inn.

* * *

A week from tomorrow—Friday, Dec. 7, Mrs. James Stuart, her daughter, Miss Kit Stuart — Mrs. Duncan Sowles and her daughter, Mrs. David Calhoun of New York City, will pay courtesy to Miss McDonald when they are hostesses at an evening dessert and linen shower at the Lincoln Country Club.

* * *

Two recent courtesies for Miss McDonald include the 9:30 o'clock coffee for which Mrs. Don Shaner was hostess at her home in Morrill last Friday—and a brunch for which the bride-elect's four bridesmaids were hostesses at Holiday Inn last Sunday.

* * *

There are many more parties for Miss McDonald, but we'll get to them another day.

Right now we want to mention the luncheon for which Miss Kit Stuart will be hostess tomorrow at the University Club. The party will honor Miss Stuart's cousin, Mrs. Kenneth Hahn of Scottsdale, Ariz., and the guest list will include a group of old high school friends.

* * *

Saturday night will find the members of the Revelers Club dining and dancing at Hotel Cornhusker, and as you may guess the party is to have a Christmas theme.

In charge of the dinner-dance details is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Chan Tyrrell, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Druliner, Mr. and Mrs. William Kinsey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phillipps, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Silverman and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Packett.

* * *

Also dining and dancing on Saturday evening will be the members of the Terpsichorean Club who will have their Christmas party at Hotel Lincoln.

The committee on arrangements includes Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pidcock, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Don Ingram, and Mr. and Mrs. John Hall.

On the party guest list will be Mr. and Mrs. Keith Sloan, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Fleming and Mr. and Mrs. George McCoy.

The goodbye party we mentioned away back in the beginning is the luncheon for which Mrs. John T. Bourke will be hostess at her home a week from next Tuesday. Mrs. Bourke has invited nine guests to the party which is a farewell courtesy to Mrs. Gordan A. Luikart who, with Mr. Luikart and their children, soon will be leaving to reside in West Palm Beach, Fla.

Suburbia Always Has Fun News

HOLLINGSWORTH HEIGHTS

And it's back to the regular round of parties, visitors, and new neighbors in Suburbia.

One of those visitors is Mrs. Phillip Gelber who is visiting Mr. Gelber's parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. R. Gelber, in Hollingsworth Heights. Mrs. Gelber and her eight-week-old daughter, Julie, arrived in Lincoln last week, and will be visiting here until mid December.

The Lincoln stay is the second half of an extensive visiting excursion while Lt. Gelber is serving in the Pacific. Before coming to Lincoln, Mrs. Gelber and Julie left their home in San Diego, Calif. and spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Ms. Robert L. Bacon, in Jefferson City, Mo.

After Lt. Gelber's return to the States, the family will return to their home in San Diego.

Another visitor in Hollingsworth Heights has been Mrs. Ethel Brumfield who has been visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Millard E. Brumfield, and her granddaughter, Marsha.

Mrs. Brumfield arrived in Lincoln early last week, and returned to their home in Urbana, Ill., yesterday.

And Mr. and Mrs. Al Gorges and their 16-year-old son, John, have spent their first Thanksgiving in Hollingsworth and in Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Gorges and John moved to Lincoln a month ago from their former home in Wichita, Kan. Their son is a junior at Pius X, and a daughter, Mrs. Dale Chamberlain, resides in Severy, Kan.

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

Northeast Heights also had visitors last weekend, and they were Mrs. Anna Gosch of Naper, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Beauchamp, and their children, Christy and Ralph, of Herrick, S.D. The out of town visitors were guests of Mrs. Gosch's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Lebsack Jr.

The Lincoln visitors left on Sunday.

And Northeast Heights residents doing some visiting last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lehl and the younger Lehls, Ricky Lee, Bobbette, and Renee.

They went to Oklahoma City, Okla., last Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Lehl's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rockel.

The travelers returned to Northeast Heights on Sunday.

A short trip to celebrate a birthday is planned for next Sunday by the Howard Luedtke family. Mr. and Mrs. Luedtke and their children, Tom, Jerri, Jim, and Julie Ann, will go to Omaha to celebrate Tom's 15th birthday with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Quass.

A family dinner with all the birthday trimmings is planned for the soon-to-be 15-year-old.

PARK MANOR

And two more birthdays and a birth are in the news from Park Manor.

One of those birthdays is that of Frederick Wagener, who, with Mrs. Wagener celebrated the special day Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Young, also of Park Manor.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagener were the Youngs' guests for dinner at a local restaurant, and afterwards they returned to the Young home for an evening of cards.

A Kimballcrest resident will be celebrating her birthday tomorrow in Park Manor. The celebrant is Mrs. Freeman Everett and she will be honored by Mrs. Harry Good, and 10 other members of one of Lincoln's original birthday clubs.

The group has been gathering to celebrate its members birthdays for over 16 years.

Tomorrow's celebration for Mrs. Everett will be a luncheon.

Hospital Auxiliaries Honored

Hostesses at a coffee on Wednesday morning were the members of the St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary who entertained auxiliary members of Bryan Memorial and Lincoln General Hospitals at the St. Elizabeth Hospital Nurses Home.

From the left are Mrs. James I. Podlesak, Mrs. John J. Young and Mrs. Robert Robinson (standing), hostesses; and two of their guests, Mrs. Glenn Deeter, Lincoln General Auxiliary, and Mrs. C. E. Sconyers, Bryan Hospital Auxiliary.

Officers of the St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary are Mrs. P. J. Meehan, president; Mrs. Martin F. Batliner, secretary; and Mrs. J. P. O'Gara, treasurer.

Opening lead — five of hearts.

It is certainly possible for a mediocre player to make an advanced play without being conscious of it, and I'm sure it happens all the time.

For example, the squeeze is surely a difficult play to plan and execute, but yet the planning part of it is unimportant if the squeeze occurs without design on declarer's part.

Look at this hand where declarer stumbled into a squeeze. It was played in a duplicate pair game where every trick scored is vital. It was easy enough to make four clubs on the deal — the trick was to make five.

The bidding was spirited and South learned a lot about the East-West cards during the auction. West led his singleton heart and declarer took the ten with the ace.

He drew three rounds of trumps to prevent the imminent heart ruff from taking place and then played a low diamond towards dummy. West took the queen and returned the king. East won with the ace and returned a heart to the queen.

Declarer cashed the ace of spades and ruffed a spade, and that brought about the following position:

North

West
♠ 10
♦ 10 8 6

East
♠ K 8

South

South now played a diamond and ruffed it in dummy. This innocent play put the squeeze on East. He couldn't discard a spade nor could he spare a heart. He knew that if he discarded a heart declarer would then cash the king of hearts to make the rest of the tricks. So he discarded the eight of spades.

Declarer therupon ruffed a spade, promoting the nine into a trick, and couldn't avoid winning the last two tricks. So the squeeze worked, whether by design or accident, which is all that counts in the long run.

Dear Abby

Your Manner?

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I graduated from business school a month ago and have been looking for an office job ever since. I am turned down everywhere because I am too good-looking! I am told they are afraid the men will spend more time at my desk than at their own. I am flattered to hear this, but do you think it is fair that I should be turned down because I am not ugly? I have to support myself. What do you suggest?

TOO BEAUTIFUL

DEAR TOO: Take a good look at yourself. Are you "beautiful" or just provocative, distracting and perhaps a little too come-hitherish? A well-groomed, refined-looking beauty should have no difficulty landing a job.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am 12 years old. I had my eyes checked last year and the doctor said I was nearsighted but I didn't need glasses yet. Yesterday I couldn't read what was on the blackboard and it was only about eight feet away. Everything looked like one big blob. The girl who sits across from me let me use her glasses and, Abby, it was wonderful. Everything was plain again. I told my mother this and she said, "Don't bother me—you are always wanting something!" How can I convince my mother I really need glasses?

CAN'T SEE

DEAR CAN'T: Mothers sometimes develop an immunity to their children's requests. Perhaps if your teacher called your mother and told her you should have your eyes checked again, she'd listen.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Is it possible to fall in love with a picture?

C. C.

DEAR C. C.: Yes. But it invariably ends in frustration because a picture can't love back.

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO GLENOLDEN: The quickest way I know of losing a friend is to tell her something "for her own good."

☆ ☆ ☆

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Announce December Wedding Plans

The wedding of Miss Janet Ruth Irwin and Daniel L. Nydegger will be an event of Saturday, Dec. 29. The bride-elect has announced that the ceremony will be solemnized at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the First Christian Church.

Attending Miss Irwin as matron of honor will be Mrs. Kent Bacon, and her maid of honor will be Miss Doretta Phillips. Miss Jean Nydegger, sister of Miss Irwin's fiance, will be the bridesmaid.

Lighting the chancel candles will be Miss Linda Crandall and Miss Betty Crandall.

Mr. Nydegger, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul L. Nydegger of New Paltz, N.Y., has named Yousef Meshica to serve as his best man, and the ushers will be John Kerr and Mike Haynes.

In prenuptial courtesy to the bride-to-be, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn Irwin and a coed at the University of Nebraska, Mrs. Alton Pardee, Mrs. Charles Hanna and Mrs Dean Bowmaster will be hostesses on Friday at the home of Mrs. Pardee. During the informal party, a miscellaneous shower will be presented to Miss Irwin.

Mrs. Kent Bacon and Miss Doretta Phillips also will entertain in courtesy to Miss Irwin who will be honored at a kitchen shower to be held on Saturday, Dec. 8, at the home of Mrs. Bacon.

On Saturday, Nov. 24, the soon-to-be bride was presented a shower at a party for which Mrs. Agnes Egger, Mrs. Cecil Larsen and Mrs. Bill Egger were hostesses to 20 guests at the home of Mrs. Bill Egger.

Also included among recent courtesies for Miss Irwin was the miscellaneous shower given on Saturday, Nov. 17, by Mrs. Agnes Ivey and Mrs. Lydia Cobel at the home of Mrs. Cobel.

Announcing plans for her approaching marriage this morning is Miss Marla Mattice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mattice, whose betrothal to A.1C David M. Zeller of Winanac, Ind., was revealed earlier this fall.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, Dec. 1, in the parsonage of the Presbyterian Church in Raymond. The Rev. Mr. Hollingsworth will read the lines of the service in the presence of members of the immediate families.

Miss Judy Hennessy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Hennessy, whose betrothal to Gordon Fountain was revealed recently, has announced that her wedding will be an event of Sunday, Dec. 30.

The marriage will be solemnized at a 6 o'clock candlelight service at the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Robert Frey will attend Miss Hennessy as matron of honor and only attendant, and serving Mr. Fountain as best man will be Hugh Jones of Minneapolis, Minn.

In prenuptial courtesy to Miss Hennessy, Mrs. Pro Sherman will be hostess at her home on Wednesday, Dec. 19, when she will entertain a group of friends at a bridal shower.

Q. I often see photographs of pleated skirts that have another color on the inside of the pleat. In other words, the skirt can be gray, with red inside each large pleat. How is this done? Is the material dyed in strips or is it cut differently? — Mrs. V. P.

A. It's all in the cut. The skirt you refer to has godet pleats with an underlay. The pleat may be pressed or unpressed. Cut all skirt pieces except the underlay pieces in one color. Then, cut the underlay pieces in another color. Briefly, to make this skirt, stitch the underlay pieces to the skirt. Fold the edge of each pleat and baste. Bring the creased edges to the right position on the underlay. Then baste along the waistline to hold pleats in place. Remove the basting stitches from the pleat edges and finish as you would any skirt.

Q. I've seen some very pretty covered buttons that have just a little embroidered motif on the center. Some are trimmed with silk thread and others with wool yarn. How can I do it? —Miss P. McV.

A. Embroider your motif on the fabric before you cover the button.

Judge: AF Using Gestapo Methods

Boise, Idaho (UPI) — Federal Judge Chase A. Clark accused the U.S. Air Force Wednesday of "gestapo methods" in its handling of a murder case against Airman Gerald M. Anderson.

Highly critical of the way the airman has been treated since a civil court freed him Monday, Judge Clark ordered a week's continuance in habeas corpus proceedings to allow for a civil rights investigation.

Anderson, 24, was accused by military authorities at nearby Mountain Home Air Force Base Tuesday of premeditated murder in the knife-slayings last April 9 of Mrs. Nancy Joy Johnson, 22, and her son, Danny, 2½, in Mountain Home.

Last week, another man, Theodore Thomas Dickie, 21, an admitted rape slayer being held in Boise, confessed to the Johnson murders and a state court freed Anderson after authorities checked Dickie's story.

Judge Clark said he understood it was the policy of the Air Force to turn such matters over to civil authorities for prosecution "unless they have some ulterior motive."

He said he could not understand why the Air Force had brought murder charges against Anderson after the young airman had been cleared of them in a state court.

"It's kind of an insult to the state court for them to be in here at this time," he said of the military authorities in U.S. District Court. "This was decided by the state court. It is plain the state court released him under a very strong order because there was no evidence he committed the crime."

Other bids:

—Truck chasis for municipal garage wrecker: International Harvester was low at $2,589.68 compared with O'Shea-Rogers Motor Co., $2,748, and DuTeau Chevrolet, $2,779.43.

—Water District 594 for Presoctt from 54th to 56th: Dobson Bros. was low at $2,160 compared with N. L. Cole, $2,754 40; Chambers, $2,356, and Bookstrom, $2,332.

—Sewer District 736 for N from 56th to Cotner: Dobson Bros. was low at $1,722 compared with Chambers, $1,753; Cole, $2,170; Bookstrom, $1,780.

—Water District 588 for N from 56th to Cotner; Dobson Bros., was low at $3,426 compared with Cole, $3,754.40; Chambers, $3,686; Bookstrom, $3,700.

Palm Still Out

London (AP) — The British government has made public a list of help offered to Trinidad-Tobago and turned down by Prime Minister Eric Williams as inadequate. Colonial Undersecretary Nigel Fisher told Commons it consisted of: 1. A million-pound ($2.8 million) loan, 2. A 250,000-pound grant, 4. A gift of 4 Vickers Viscount aircraft.

N.Y. Song Writer Beaten To Death

New York (AP) — Rudolph Toombs, 48, a dancer-turned-song writer who composed more than 500 songs, was beaten to death in the hallway of his uptown Manhattan apartment house early Wednesday, the victim of muggers.

Toombs' wife, Lucille, found the dying man, his head split open, lying on the floor in the building at 370 Manhattan Ave. He was dead on arrival at Knickerbocker Hospital.

Detectives sought 3 men in the fatal mugging.

Among the songs written by the Louisiana-born Toombs were "One Mint Julep" and "Teardrops From My Eyes."

Watch It, Pete

London (AP) — The court was told that Peter Groucutt habitually lost his temper and hurled teacups and a flatiron at his brother in arguments over care of their birds. The judge ordered the 19-year-old to pay a pound ($2.80) fine weekly for 25 weeks and repeat each time: "I must not lose my temper over canaries."

Honor Young Seaman

Portsmouth, Va. (AP) — A young seaman received the nation's 3rd highest decoration for heroism Wednesday.

Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth presented the Legion of Merit to radioman-seaman William D. Hodges, 19, of Greenbelt, Md., in a ceremony aboard the destroyer John W. Weeks in the Norfolk Naval Shipyard.

Hodges received the medal for his initiative and leadership in directing rescue operations after a Pennsylvania train wreck July 28.

The youth's mother, Mrs. Patsy C. Hodges, accompanied Korth on his flight from Washington. She watched the ceremony proudly.

Hodges was an apprentice seaman attending radio school in Bainbridge, Md., when the train wreck happened beside the Bethlehem Steel plant at Steelton, Pa.

He and a Navy drill team he directed came upon the scene. A 9-car passenger train had derailed, and passengers and crewmen were trapped inside.

Hodges organized the drill team into a rescue unit and labored 8 hours to remove the dead and injured.

Industrial Zoning Urged North Of Tract

Heavy industry zoning for an 80-acre tract at the northeast corner of 27th and Superior was recommended Wednesday by the City-County Planning Commission.

The tract, owned by Bair Machine Company, lies directly north of the Berniklau Industrial Tract, site of two industries and the proposed Brunswick Corp. plant.

Attorney Miles Johnston, representing Harley J. Bair, said the tract would be leased for a stock-car race track until developed industrially.

Need License

Race tracks are permitted in industrial districts, but require county licensing. No tracks may be licensed within Lincoln.

In other action, the commission recommended highway-service zoning of an 8-acre tract on each corner of the State 77 and Arbor Road intersection near the Interstate 80 interchange.

The zoning permits service stations, restaurants and public garages, but not motels or hotels.

The commission has twice unsuccessfully recommended to the City Council that hotel and motels be permitted in the "H-S highway service districts" near the Interstate.

Three of the 4 property owners involved are he Lauer Estate, J. J. Jesse and P. F. Finigan.

At the request of the council, the planning commission took action on pending zoning applications of Merril R. Reller.

The commission unanimously approved heavy industrial zoning of approximately 160 acres fronting for a mile on State 77 (56th street extended) to a depth of a quarter-mile.

Reller had requested zoning for 480 acres between 48th and 56th (as extended) and north from Euclid Ave. (as extended), generally located between Arrow and Union airports.

The commission by a 6-1 vote recommended denial of light industrial zoning of a large tract between approximately 40th and 46th, north of the Cornhusker Hwy.

Reller has requested rezoning from public and rural use of the property, except for the Cornhusker Hwy. frontage zoned highway commercial.

No action was taken on the special use permit for a trailer court, requested by Reller, because zoning recommendation was adverse, in effect, to the permit.

NU Team 8th In Judging Contest

Madison, Wis.—The University of Nebraska senior meats judging team, coached by Robert Dannert, placed 8th in a field of 25 teams in the intercollegiate meats judging contest held here. An Iowa State University team emerged in first place.

The Nebraska team, composed of Julius Felker, Milburn; Dean Jacobs, Staplehurst; Thomas Lewis, Cambridge; and Ronald Smith, Herman; placed in the various events as follows: second in lamb grading; 8th in beef grading; 6th in pork judging; 13th in beef judging; Lewis placed 10th in individual judging in a field of 75 contestants.

State Employees Prove Law Won't Stop 'Social Drinking'

Trenton, N.J. (UPI) — Two state employes sat under a spotlight on stage Wednesday drinking whiskey and eating chicken while dozens of judges watched them.

Joseph Caserta and Rudolph Torlini drank a half pint of 86 proof whiskey between them.

It was a demonstration before the Annual Judicial Conference of New Jersey Magistrates to show that a proposed new law forbidding "driving while impaired" would not hinder social drinking.

Ned J. Parsekian, state motor vehicle director, staged the demonstration to support the bill introduced in the state legislature two weeks ago. It would suspend licenses of drivers who, although not drunk, have enough alcohol in their systems to cause a hazard on the highway.

Caserta and Torlini each drank an ounce of whiskey every 20 minutes. After they had downed 4 ounces, they blew up balloons used in a drunkometer breath test.

Torlini registered .02%. Caserta's percentage did not show up.

Parsekian said that this proved that the new law, which calls for suspension of license for drivers found on the road with .05 to .15% alcohol content, would not affect social drinking at all.

New Jersey law defines "drunken drivers" as those with more than .15% alcohol content in their blood and provides for a fine and jail sentence in addition to suspension of license.

Find Dangerous Gas

Warsaw (UPI) — The Polish news agence PAP said a supply of gas affecting the breathing and nervous systems, enough to incapacitate a large town, has been found on the site of the wartime Nazi concentration camp at Oswiecim.

Study Due For Potentials Of Elkhorn, Big Blue River Basins

State, federal and local agencies will make a series of studies of the potentials of the Elkhorn and Big Blue River basins.

The plan is to develop a basin-wide, long-range program to prevent floods and make the most economic use of soil and water resources.

The co-ordinating agency will be the State Soil and Water Conservation Commission which will present recommendations to local groups in 1966.

This will be the first such planning program in Nebraska, the state commission said.

Warren Fairchild, executive secretary of the commission, said: "We envision these as the beginning of studies for every Nebraska river basin."

He said that "local groups had proposed the studies to cover soil and water conservation, watershed protection, flood protection and control, irrigation, drainage and water for municipal and industrial use."

Participating in the studies will be:

Bureau of Reclamation, Army Engineers, Soil Conservation Service, U. S. Agricultural Department Economic Research Service. U. S. Forest Service, University of Nebraska Conservation and Survey Division, State Water Resources Department and Federal-State Extension Service.

Decrease Told In Death Payments

Nebraska families received $17,200,000 in life insurance death payments in the first 9 months of this year, compared with $18,000,000 in the corresponding period of last year, the Institute of Life Insurance reported Wednesday.

The number of policies becoming claims in the first 9 months was 7,900 which compares with 7,700 in the corresponding period last year.

"The record growth of life insurance ownership in recent years is reflected in these current payments," Blake T. Newton, Jr., institute president, said in announcing the figures.

Death payments in the state in the first three quarters of 1962 compare with $9,100,000 in the corresponding period of 1952.

Bean Growers Due $200,000 For Damaged Crop

Western Nebraska growers of dry edible beans, severely damaged by an early freeze last September, will collect more than $200,000 in crop insurance indemnities, Ed Finigan, Federal Crop Insurance director for Nebraska, reported Wednesday.

Approximately 400 claims have been paid, he said.

He estimated that about one half of the producers in 3 counties involved—Box Butte, Morrill and Scotts Bluff—now hold crop insurance contracts.

Herrmann Likely GOP Citizens' Pick

Washington (AP) — George (Tim) Herrmann, Chicago insurance man, was reported authoritatively Wednesday as the probable choice for chairman of a new Republican party group which will try to broaden public support for the GOP.

The group is known as the National Republican Citizens Committee which recently opened offices here with 37-year-old Don C. Frey, a native of Racine, Wis., as staff director.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is honorary chairman of the committee, whose formation was announced last June following an all- Republican conference meeting on the Eisenhower farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

Formal selection of a volunteer chairman is due to be announced this week. Herrmann is a vice chairman and member of the 18-member board of the committee which will hold its first meeting here Dec. 14 to discuss general programs for the coming year. The chairman will draw no salary.

Herrmann is president of the Republican Citizens League of Illinois and was a member of the National Volunteers for Nixon-Lodge in 1960. He is a graduate of Northwestern University and commanded a destroyer escort in World War II.

The new committee, according to its sponsors, will supplement the work of the republican committee by conducting research, organizing state and local citizens' groups, and trying to sell the Republican philosophy to independents and Democrats.

Bid To Save Pet Pooch To U.S. Supreme Court

Roanoke, Va. (AP) — A plea to save the life of Ricky — the Giles County German Shepherd pet dog accused of killing sheep — went Wednesday to the nation's highest court.

Roanoke attorney Harvey Lutins said an appeal from the dog's court-ordered death sentence has been filed with the U.S. Supreme Court.

The case began in February 1960, when Ricky was found standing near the carcas of a ewe. He was shot, but recovered and was sentenced by the Giles County Court to die.

Pleas to save the life of the 6-year-old pure bred dog went to the Giles County Circuit Court and then to the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals.

By a 4-3 decision, the state high court turned down in September an appeal to overthrow Ricky's death sentence.

The dog's owners, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Laing of Pearisburg, have contended that when Ricky was found next to the dead sheep he was merely doing what he had been rigidly trained for — guard duty.

An examination by a veterinarian immediately after the incident showed no wool in Ricky's mouth.

The filing of the case with the U.S. Supreme Court comes after Laing vowed in September that "I may go without eating, but the fight to save Ricky will go on."

In the court appeal, Laing claims he was charged with owning a sheep-killing dog instead of Ricky being charged with killing sheep.

Nebraskans Purchase Champ Shorthorn Bull

Chicago (AP) — The grand champion shorthorn bull of the International Live Stock Exposition was purchased by Dan and W. G. McCubbin, shorthorn breeders of Gretna and Elkhorn, Neb.

The grand champion, S & T Pacemaker 12th, was shown by Malcolm Tucker and Son, Christman, Ill. The purchase price was $2,500.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

It is spring in South America and the Republic of Uruguay is on the brink of elections.

Have not been able to determine the merits of the candidates or the issues — and it seems to be very much like an election in the U.S.— "throw the rascals out and let us rascals in."

However, it is the noisiest election I have ever heard. For sheer high score in decibels, I will bet on Montevideo against all comers.

☆ ☆ ☆

There must be a dozen loud-speaker trucks on the central Plaza de la Libertad.

Each one has the power turned up full blast.

Besides the touring sound trucks, there are a number of loud hailers hidden under the cornices of buildings. Sometimes they are on the air for hours. Sometimes they blast just as you walk under them.

"Jose Candidato is for freedom and all the other guys are bums!"

As an added touch, the waiters in the hotel go on half-hour strikes at entertaining moments.

They hit it right after the soup last night.

The manager says he fired a union member. He caught him pinching the till three times in a row.

The union says—well, I don't know what the union says really. They just down plates and go out on the sidewalk.

This left everybody in my bunch hustling their own plates.

The waiters came back in time for dessert.

There was some kind of demonstration on the street. And a lot of people were going to march on the American Embassy.

It's a gay life in Montevideo when the voting time rolls around.

☆ ☆ ☆

In spite of all this, Uruguay has a very stable reputation. The peso has been 11 to the U.S. $1 as long as anyone can remember.

When the owners of those hideout bank accounts in Switzerland get nervous (as when the Berlin thing tenses up) they move the money into Uruguay.

Right now the Brazilian cruzeiro is slipping fast. The Argentine peso has been going down. When this happens, money flows into stable Uruguay. Somewhat to the annoyance of both the other countries.

"Uruguay lives on the woes of its neighbors," said an Argentinian. "When the economy of Brazil and Argentine is good, Uruguay disappears."

☆ ☆ ☆

There are a few "Con Fidel" signs painted on the walls. But the anti-Castro people go around adding strokes to the "L" so that it becomes an "O."

So "with Fidel" becomes in Spanish "with noodles."

There is drought in the back country. Cattle are not selling and cattle are dying. It is a critical thing. For this is Uruguay's No. 1 income crop.

However, street stands are loaded with American cigarettes—a sure indication of prosperity in all countries. They sell for 45 cents U.S. a package.

☆ ☆ ☆

This noon the waiters walked out again. So did the bartender. He poured everybody a double first. Said he'd be back in half an hour and left.

The plaza loud-speakers offered to solve all the wrongs in the world—"A vote for Jose Candidato is a vote for freedom!"

MAD STAPLER STRUCK DOWN

Sioux Falls, S.D. (AP) — Leroy Wittrock found out he could pay his parking ticket and still be in trouble.

He used 57 staples to attach the ticket to a dollar, the amount of the fine, then mailed it to the clerks of courts.

Hailed into municipal court, Wittrock pleaded guilty to a charge of conducting himself in an offensive manner. He was fined $15 with $10 of it suspended on condition of good behavior for a year.

Quorum?

Maysville, Ky. (AP) — The Fraternal Order of Eagles here had two attendance awards ready for presentation at a recent meeting. Both were unclaimed. The winners were absent.

In a survey of its member stores, Super Market Institute found that in 1962 they averaged a sales gain of 8% over 1959. Virtually all companies—97%— advertised in newspapers. Some 42% of these used newspapers on one day of the week; 39%—two days; 11%—three days; 8%—four to seven days. Thursday was cited by 56% of these stores as the leading day for newspaper advertising, with Wednesday a strong second.

a big, talented all-senior line which averages 212 pounds from end to end.

Hoppmann, the conference career total offense leader 3 straight years, is the lone senior in a backfield which includes 3 sophomores—Gale Sayers of Kansas, Johnny Roland of Missouri and Jim Grisham of Oklahoma.

Most Support

Hitchler, a 217-pound ex-Marine, center Wayne Lee (206) of Oklahoma and guard Tom Hertz, 217, of Missouri drew the most support among the linemen from the coaches, scouts, writers and sportscasters who helped select the team. Lee and Hertz were rated the two best blockers. Hitchler is an excellent blocker and outstanding defensive player.

Joining them on the first team were tackles Dennis Ward (222) of Oklahoma and Tyrone Robertson, (220) of Nebraska, guard Leon Cross (204) of Oklahoma and end Ken Blair (205) of Colorado.

Hoppmann's career total of 4,173 run-pass yards is second in Big Eight annals only to Missouri's Paul Christman, with 4,246 in 1938-40. Hoppmann also is the conference career record holder in rushing with 2,562 yards. He scored 126 points and passed for 100 more in 3 years.

Grisham, a rugged 205-pounder, was the league's best fullback, a power runner who ripped Missouri and Nebraska for 214 yards in the last two crucial games. He's also an outstanding blocker and linebacker.

Claridge Talented

Sayers led the conference in rushing with 1,125 while Roland gained 830. Roland's 78 points topped the league in scoring. They were a narrow choice for the halfback spots over Oklahoma's fleet Joe Don Looney. Nebraska quarterback Dennis Claridge, a talented run-pass threat, drew a lot of support behind Hoppmann. In fact, these 6 men dominated the backfield picture.

The selectors noted the Big Eight's sophomore crop may have been the best ever this season. They said gifted rookie backs can have their best seasons their first year, while sophomore linemen have more to learn. A prime example was Bobby Reynolds, Nebraska, who set the league rushing record of 1,342 yards as a sophomore in 1959.

Sayers was named sophomore back of the year, with Roland second and Grisham a close third. Ralph Neely, 245-pound Oklahoma tackle, was named rookie lineman of the year in a close race over three teammates—end John Flynn and guards Newt Burton and Ed McQuarters.

LINCOLN HOPES DIMMED

Majors' Move Hurts Chances

. . . OMAHA ALSO IDLED

Lincoln Star Special

Rochester, N.Y.—Major league farm directors Wednesday night froze all double A and single A leagues to the number of teams they had last year.

This move practically eliminated Lincoln's hopes for a place in professional baseball next year.

Lincoln was a prime candidate for the Midwest League which was planning to expand to 12 teams from its 10-team operation of 1962.

Omaha As Hub

The Chiefs also had entered speculation over a double A league to hub around Omaha if Omaha loses out of the American Association.

Both of these possibilities for Lincoln have now been removed.

Lincoln's chances seemed to revolve around the shifting of franchises of that league . . . or of a change in the major league planning, which has happened many times before.

Lincoln had the fires burning under a deal for a new Class A league in the Midwest . . . but several contigencies were attached to such a tieup.

Lobby Gatherings

J. Vaulx Risser, executive vice president of the Lincoln Baseball Club, was in lobby gatherings most of the day to lay the groundwork for the Chiefs.

To complete a 12-team league it would have been necessary for Wisconsin Rapids to go into the eastern division, a question of whether or not that Wisconsin city is ready to operate.

The Midwest League has given the Rapids until Dec. 10 to make its decision.

Lincoln, meanwhile, needed a traveling companion in the west division and both Des Moines and Sioux City were in the picture.

Western Division

The western division of the league which would play an interlocking schedule with the east division with just one trip each into the other section, would have included Lincoln, probably Des Moines, Cedar Rapids, Burlington, Waterloo, and Quincy.

In the east division would have been Davenport, Decatur, Clinton, Appleton, Dubuque and Wisconsin Rapids.

Joe L. Brown, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, expressed great interest in furnishing a working agreement for Lincoln in such a league if it could be worked out. The only Pirate objection would be over the amount of travel. Lincoln's longest jump would be to Quincy, about 325 miles, except on the one swing to play the east division.

One of the attractions of such a league is the new working agreement which would give more financial aid to the Class A teams. Class A is the new classification which will see the elimination of Classes B, C and D.

Activities Curtailed

The major leagues are curtailing their activities considerably. Where a major league team formerly might have had 10 to 12 farm clubs, now they will all have only basically 5.

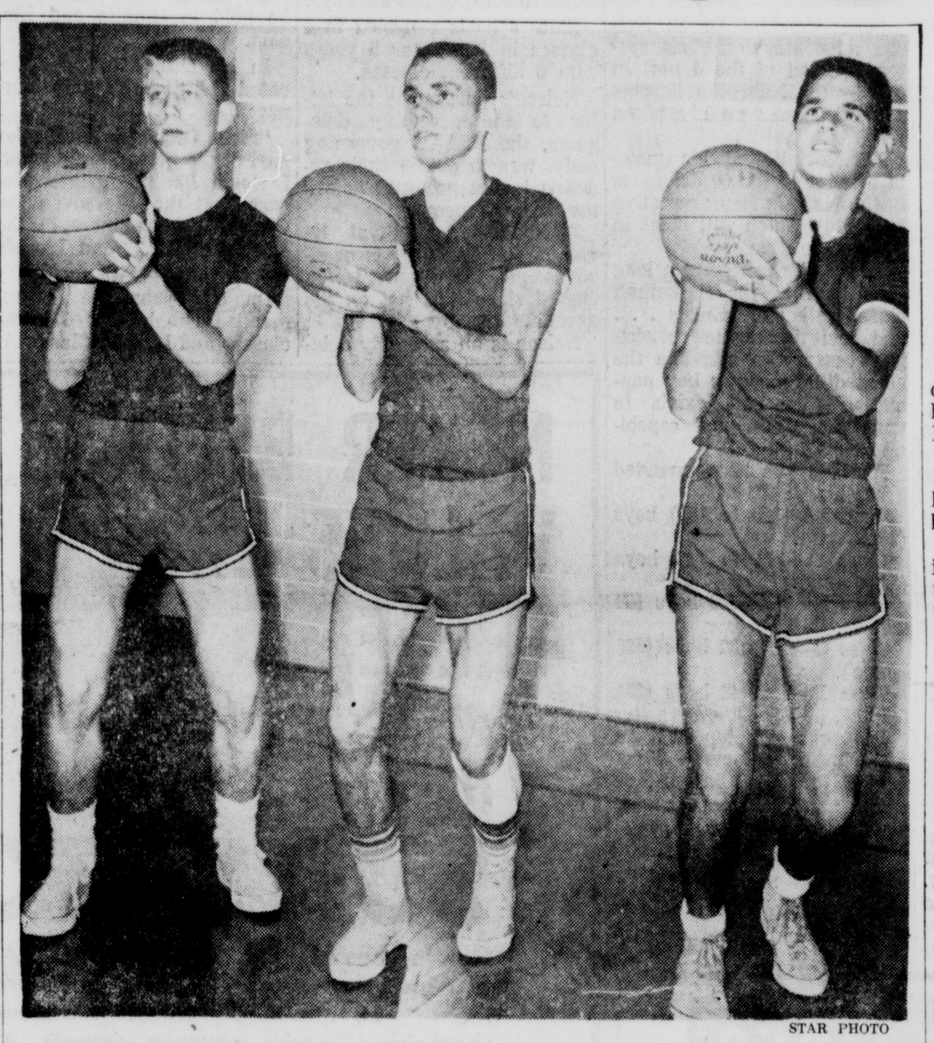

The plan calls for 20 triple A teams, 20 double A and 60 Class A teams.

This is what is causing such commotion in the triple A ranks where the International League has 8 teams and is happy and the Pacific Coast League has 8 teams.

This takes care of 16 of the AAA working agreements and leaves the 6-team American Association with just 4 working agreements.

Omaha has been caught up in this squeeze and mayor Jim Dworak and his committee went home, taking their $100,000 check and a very bitter feeling with them.

Bruce Woodward was left on the scene to represent Omaha interests.

Little Bowers (5-9) Moves Into Links Basketball Plans

. . . LINCOLN HIGH LACKS EXPERIENCE

By CONDE SARGENT
Prep Sports Writer

Bill Bowers was a towering 6-feet, 5-inches tall when he played basketball at Lincoln High.

Brother Larry, a junior at LHS, resembles Bill considerably but stands just 5-9.

In this difference in brothers' heights may lie the luck of Lincoln High coach Alden Johnson.

He became Lincoln High's basketball coach right after two tall Link teams had earned a pair of state titles.

Now in his 4th year, Johnson hasn't seen any height that will measure up to basketball standards.

As a consolation, it's better this year than last. But the experience factor is lacking so the Links may be a year away.

Major returnees are Dave Holibaugh, 5-11, and Mike Glenn, 6-1, both regulars last year when the Links won 4 and lost 12.

A crushing blow to the Links' cage fortune was the death in a car accident of Alvin Tooke, a fine sophomore regular last year.

Only other letterman on the team is senior Jerry Schidler, 5-11.

There isn't enough height to give Johnson hopes for a brilliant season.

"If we can rebound, we'll give anybody fits," he observed, adding that Creighton Prep and Omaha Tech will be Intercity teams in the "hard to beat" category.

"These boys can shoot, there's no doubt about that," he said.

Bowers is up from last year's reserve team along with Dennis Wertz, Jim Kennedy, Ralph Merriman, Bob Vasatka and Bob McKay. All shoot well.

Sophomores Frank Brill, a husky 6-1, and 5-9 Joe Weyant are outstanding prospects although Weyant may see reserve team action.

Transfer student Jerry Buczynskyj, 5-10 junior, will be eligible after the first of the year.

Pirates Send Hoak To Phils For Two

Rochester, N.Y. (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates, reshuffling their club in a bid to regain their world champion status of 1960, swung their 3rd deal in a month Wednesday night when they sent Don Hoak to the Philadelphia Phillies for young Ted Savage and Pancho Herrera.

The departure of Hoak left second baseman Bill Mazeroski as the last remaining holdover from the Pirates' world championship infield of two years ago. First baseman Dick Stuart was traded to the Boston Red Sox and shortstop Dick Groat to the St. Louis Cardinals in earlier deals this month.

Herrera, the International League's home run king and all-star first baseman at Buffalo during the past season, promptly was assigned to the Pirates' Columbus, O., farm in the International League.

The acquistion of the 33-year-old Hoak, a hustling 3rd baseman who has played 9 seasons in the majors, will enable manager Gene Mauch of the Phillies to move Don Demeter back to the outfield.

Savage, a 25-year-old, right-handed hitting outfielder, batted .266 in 125 games for the Phils last season. He has speed and power and is rated an outstanding young prospect.

This is the 11th player transaction completed this week during the minor league meetings and raised to 25 the total number of players who have changed uniforms.

Class D Loop Folds For '63

Rochester, N.Y. (AP) — The Alabama-Florida League, oldest Class D circuit in existance, does not plan to operate in 1963, President William Moore revealed Wednesday.

"We are out," Moore said bluntly. "Only 3 of our 6 clubs have working agreements and we cannot operate unless all 6 have them."

The Alabama - Florida League, which includes two teams in Florida, Pensacola, and Fort Walton Beach, and 4 in Alabama — Selma, Montgomery, Dothan, and Andalusia — has been operating since 1937.

When the league officially folds, that will leave only 19 minor circuits left. The high point for the minors was 59 leagues just after World War II.

Peru State Opens Season Friday

Peru — Peru State's basketball team will be out to avenge one of 5 1961-62 defeats Friday night when Buena Vista College visits the Peru gymnasium for a 7:30 contest.

Buena Vista stopped Peru last season, 90-80, at Storm Lake, Iowa, and the visitors will bring along Larry Dick, who scored 37 points to help dump the Bobcats a year ago.

—MERGER PROPOSAL—

International Vetoes Plan

Rochester, N.Y. (AP)—The International League Wednesday night rejected, each by a 6-2 vote, proposals that would have merged baseball's 3 triple A leagues—the International, Pacific Coast and American Association—into two leagues.

After a meeting of minor league boss George Trautman, International League directors and league President Tommy Richardson, and farm directors of major league teams who have clubs in the IL, Richardson said:

"The proposals for increasing the International League to 12 teams and to 10 teams were turned down. In each case, the vote was 6-2."

It was reported that the only two IL clubs in favor were Columbus and Toronto.

Under the 12-team proposal, would have folded with Oklahoma City, Dallas-Fort Worth, Little Rock and Indianapolis moving into the International League and Denver moving into the Pacific Coast League, making that circuit an 8-club setup.

Under the 10-team proposal, Indianapolis and Little Rock would have moved into the IL; and Oklahoma City, Dallas-Fort Worth, and Denver into the PCL, with the American Association again folding.

After the refections, an unidentified major league general manager went into a huddle with the involved leagues and Trautman and it was learned another proposal was made that will be discussed at a meeting Thursday morning.

This plan would leave the 8-club International League as it is, while increasing the American Association to 6 teams and trimming the PCL to 6 by having Salt Lake City transfer into the American Association. The 8th PCL club, Vancouver, no longer has a major league affiliation and is expected to fold operations.

This late action came on the eve of a vote by the minors on whether to approve a vast reorganization under which at least 100 clubs would be underwritten by the major leagues. The minors are expected to vote affirmatively.

The blueprint for the new deal which would lump all the minors into class triple A, class double A, class A and rookie leagues, was drawn up by a joint major and minor committee headed by John W. Galbreath, Pittsburgh owner. It has the blessing of Commissioner Ford Frick.

Baseball men will divert their attention from trading to paper work long enough to vote on the plan at Thursday's executive session of the National Association (minors).

The reorganization plan which must be approved by the majors Saturday like all other legislation passed by the minors calls for approximately 20 triple A clubs, 20 double A clubs, and 60 in class A.

The Pacific Coast, International and American Association will be the triple A leagues. The Texas, Mexican, Eastern and South Atlantic will be double A. All the leagues that were class B, C, or D last year would be lumped into class A.

Instead of the outright subsidies that cost the majors $850,000 last year, the minors would be guaranteed spring training costs, certain traveling expenses, salaries of managers and coaches, and all player salaries in excess of $800 per man monthly in triple A, $150 in double A, and $50 in class A.

Standard working agreements under a new player development contract would spell out in black and white the responsibilities of both the major league club and the minor league operator, who would pay for normal operation costs and park upkeep. The minor league club would pocket the profit if any.

Of course, in many cases, the major league team would continue to own the minor league club outright and operate it.

Coach Testifies In Bribery Trial

Raleigh, N.C. (AP) — Coach Everett Case told a jury Wednesday that the first time he had suspicions about his North Carolina State College basketball team was in the State Georgia Tech game here on Dec. 17, 1960.

Case was a witness in the trials of Dave Goldberg, 46, and Steve Lekometros, 39, both of St. Louis, who are charged in a multiple-count indictment with bribery, attempted bribery and conspiracy to bribe.

The veteran coach said that in the Georgia Tech game State led by 8 to 10 points at the half.

Case testified that since State had taken a "pretty bad beating down at Georgia Tech" previously, he was anxious that his team beat Tech by a good score this time.

"But things began to happen," Case recalled. "Mistakes, poor ball handling. I began to think we were getting bad calls from the officials. It was the first game I sensed anything wrong." Case said State won by about 6 points.

Before Case took the stand, former State players Terry Litchfield and Anton Muehlbauer testified that they had taken $1,000 each from Bob Kraw of New York City to "shave points" in the Georgia Tech game. However, they had to return the money to Kraw after the game since the point spread didn't work out right for the gamblers, according to the testimony.

Kraw, who is under indictment with Goldberg, Lekometros and a number of other defendants in the bribery cases, has not been taken into custody. Goldberg is described by the state as a top money backer for the fixes and Lekometros as his lieutenant.

Lincoln C Of C Wants Cage Meet To Stay Put

The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce has asked that no portion of the state high school basketball tournament be moved from the Capital City.

The Chamber passed a resolution Tuesday, urging the Nebraska School Activities Association (NSAA) to maintain Lincoln as the only site for the tourney.

Copies of the resolution reportedly will be sent to all schools in the state before the NSAA's Representative Assembly meets in Lincoln on Dec. 6.

A request by the Omaha Chamber of Commerce to split the state tourney between Lincoln and Omaha has brought the subject to the agenda of the Dec. 6 meeting.

It is presumed the NSAA will instigate a study of the possible two-site tourney since the proposal which will go to the assembly doesn't call for a switch before 1964.

The NSAA expects representation from both Lincoln and Omaha Chamber of Commerces at the meeting.

The resolution listed 5 reasons for not changing the tourney setup:

—Available facilities and accommodations are among the best in the state.

—Nebraska University and the city of Lincoln are enthusiastic about hosting the tourney.

—Lincoln offers such added attractions as the State Capitol, Unicameral sessions, a healthy climate for younger people, numerous leisure time activities, and the University of Nebraska.

—Support of athletic events in Lincoln is excellent.

—Lincoln has been the site of the tourney for years without dissatisfaction of tourney management.

Army Gets Nod Over Navy By 5

By DICK DUNKEL

Models of inconsistency, this year's Army and Navy football teams have carved enough hills and valleys to make a relief map.

The question about their meeting Saturday at Philadelphia is: Who'll be on the hill, who in the valley?

If Army plays as it did in defeating Penn State, 9-6, heaven help Navy. But if the Cadets repeat their 7-12 showing against Okla. State, it will be anchors aweigh.

If Navy duplicates its 32-9 form over Pittsburgh, it'll be good-bye Army. But if the Middies assume their 6-34 posture under Syracuse, Army's tanks will roll.

Trying to pierce the veil with averages of performance to date, the Dunkel Index shows Army at 88.1 and Navy at 83.2. So the picture from here is:

Army 5 over Navy.

Index differences, or pars, in Saturday's other big games:

East — Boston College 11 over Holy Cross, Virginia 4 over Rutgers.

Midwest — Oklahoma 25 over Okla. State.

South — Alabama 19 over Auburn, Mississippi 23 over Miss. State, Florida 11 over Miami, Fla.; Georgia Tech 12 over Georgia, Tennessee 10 over Vanderbilt.

Southwest — TCU 9 over SMU, Baylor 4 over Rice, Houston 21 over Cincinnati.

Far West — Notre Dame 2 over So. Caliofrnia, UCLA 9 over Utah.

The higher rating teams have won in 75.7% of the 1,698 games, not counting ties, covered here this season to date.

Schedule, with ratings, follows:

Lakers In 1st Place

Los Angeles (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers out-duelled the St. Louis Hawks in the closing minutes Wednesday night and gained a 116-110 victory that gave them sole occupancy of first place in the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

NL Catcher To Manage

Augusta, Ga. (AP) — Albert (Rube) Walker, former National League catcher with the Brooklyn Dodgers, was named manager of the Augusta Yankees baseball team Wednesday.

Wagman Says He Made $20,000 On Cage Bribes

Raleigh, N.C. (AP) — Aaron Wagman of New York City testified under cross-examination Wednesday that he made about $20,000 since 1957 as a result of bribing college basketball players.

He said money used to bribe players and to pay "intermediaries" always was returned to the backers when the game failed to work out.

Wagman estimated 15 to 10% of the games that were fixed did not win for the backers.

Testifying at the trial of two St. Louis men accused of bribing basketball players to shave points, Wagman said he and Joseph Green became partners in 1957 in gamefixing.

Evans To Boss Twins' Farm Club

Rochester, N.Y. (AP)—Al Evans, former major league catcher with the Washington Senators, was named manager Wednesday of the Minnesota Twins Charlotte farm club in the South Atlantic League.

Evans, who served as a scout for the Twins last year, succeeds Red Robbins, who was given Evans' job as a scout in the Carolina area.

Howser Is Crowned Executive Of The Year

Rochester, N.Y. (AP) — Phil Howser, general manager of Charlotte of the South Atlantic League was honored Wednesday night as minor league executive of the year.

Howser was crowned at the annual banquet of the National Association.

Doane Cage Meet Starts Friday

Lincoln Star Special

Crete — Sterling (Kan.) College will meet Dana in the opening round of the 3rd annual Doane College Invitational basketball tournament here Friday and Saturday.

The defending champion Kansas and Dana will meet at 7:15 p.m., with Doane taking on Friends University of Wichita, Kan., in the nightcap at 8:45.

Friday's losers will meet in the 7:15 game Saturday and the championship tilt is slated for 8:45. All games will be played at the Crete High School gym.

Three team trophies will be awarded and the 5 players selected for the all-tourney team will receive gold basketball medals.

Doane coach Bob Erickson has 9 lettermen returning. Paul Kersenbrock, a 6-7 two-year letterman, is back in school after a year's study in France and has been named captain for this season's Tigers.

Other lettermen include sophomores Terry Koch of Clatonia, Bruce Maschmann of Ruskin, Larry Andrews of North Platte, Ron Uhlenhopp of Akron, Colo., juniors Ken Parker of Crete, Dick Stephens of Alliance, Ted Ross of Valentine and senior Rich Lothrop of Crete.

Two freshmen — Roger Capps of Alton, Ill., and Bob Klein of Denver — have been tabbed to start with Kersenbrock, Koch and Andrews in the opening contest.

Orlando To Be Added To FSL

Rochester, N.Y. (AP)—Orlando, Fla., will be added to the Florida State League at its Dec. 9 meeting, League President William McKechnie Jr., said Wednesday.

The son of the hall of fame Bill McKechnie said that in all possibility the Class D circuit will operate as either a 10 or 12 team league in 1963. It operated as an 8-team league in 1962.

The Orlando club has been assured of a working agreement with the Minnesota Twins, who train in that city in the spring.

Nebraska City Delegate Wants More Prep Classes

Nebraska City High School wants more high school basketball classes.

Superintendent D. E. Nelson advocates a 5-class system instead of the 4 now in use by the Nebraska Schools Activities Association (NSAA).

Nelson initiated his move in a letter to the 50 delegates of the NSAA's Representative Assembly which will meet in Lincoln on Dec. 6.

"I have been taking a long hard look at the basketball classification of schools . . . and feel that some revision is necessary to alleviate the great differences in boy population that now exists in various classes, and especially in Class A."

Class AA—329 to 1560 boys (24 teams).

Class A—152 to 305 boys (32 teams).

Class B—83 to 149 boys (64 teams).

Class C—42 to 82 boys (128 teams).

Class D—5 to 42 boys (201 teams).

The present setup has the following breakdown — Class A, 239 to 1560; Class B, 99 to 229; Class C, 47 to 99; Class D, 5 to 47.

Nebraska City has 250 boys.

State schools returned to 4 classes in 1960 after 5 years with 6 different classes.

Nelson's purpose in the letter to the assembly delegates, the NSAA's governing body, was to obtain their reaction to the proposal before the Dec. 6 meeting.

A majority approval by vote of the assembly is needed to get the proposal discussed since it is not on the agenda.

Nelson is an assembly delegate from the NSAA's District II which proposed that the state basketball tournament be held in Omaha and Lincoln.

In his letter, Nelson advocated splitting the state tourney:

"Since Omaha is asking for part of the State Tournament, I would like to further propose that they be given the Class AA tournament in the even years . . . and Lincoln the other 4 classes . . ."

On odd years he recommended Omaha get 4 lower classes and Lincoln Class AA.

Lineman May Get Nod Over Baker

. . . AFL DRAFT IS SATURDAY

Dallas, Tex. (AP) — Dallas gets the first choice in the 3rd American Football League draft here Saturday but is expected to go for some big lineman instead of quarterback Terry Baker, the Heisman Trophy winner from Oregon State.

The Texans won't say who they plan to select, but since they have the league's top quarterback, Len Dawson, and a brilliant understudy in Eddie Wilson, they undoubtedly will go after a blue ribbon lineman.

Jim Dunaway, Mississippi tackle; Dave Behrman, Michigan State center, or Junius Buchanan, the Grambling giant who runs the 220-yard dash in 22.5 although he weighs 274 pounds, are most likely.

Coach Hank Stram of the Texans has said he wants big men in the line in preference to backs since Dallas already has what is considered to be the finest backfield in the league. An offensive tackle, a defense end and an offensive guard are considered the prime needs of the Texans, who lead the Western Division of the AFL but still get the first draft choice.

This was brought about when Oakland, the last place club, traded its first draft choice to Dallas.

In fact, Oakland has traded its first 5 choices and unless it swings some trades soon will sit around part of the day when the draft is going on. Jim Otto, its center, is wanted by all, but Oakland would hardly trade off the top pivot man in the league.

The draft will start at 7 a.m., CST, two hours earlier than usual, because the clubs wanted it over as soon as possible so the scouts could hit the road and start signing up the players.

The draft is set for 30 rounds but is expected to be cut to about 25.

Top choices appear to be Jerry Stovall, the Louisiana State halfback; Tom Hutchinson, Kentucky end; Dave Robisnon, Penn State end: Kermit Alexander, UCLA halfback; Bobby Bell, Minnesota tackle; Lee Roy Jordan, Alabama center; Pat Richter, Wisconsin end, and Baker, Behrman, Buchanan and Dunaway.

Never Bend Is '62 Champion Colt

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP) — Never Bend, who won 7 of 10 races and a record one year total of $402,969 in his first year of racing, was named champion 2-year-old colt of 1962 Wednesday by the Thoroughbred Racing Association's board of selection.

The dark bay son of NasrullahLalun, by Djeddah, is owned by the Cain Hoy Stable of Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim of New York.

Never Bend surpassed First Landing's one year earning record of $396,460, set in 1958, for a 2-year-old.

Omaha Knights Tie Hull-Ottawa

Hull Ont., (AP) — A shot by Pat Ginnell with 12 seconds to play gave Omaha a 2-2 tie with Hull-Ottawa of the Eastern Hockey League Wednesday night. The game counts in both the EHL and the International Hockey League to which Omaha belongs.

Hull-Ottawa had led 2-0 at the end of the first period and Omaha closed to 2-1 at the end of the second period.

So. Mississippi Tops Small Colleges

. . . OMAHA RATES TIE FOR 18TH UPI SPOT

New York (UPI) — Southern Mississippi, which aspires to ranking as a major football college, was named the 1962 national small college football champion by the United Press International board of coaches.

The Southerners, who won the title and the permanent trophy that goes with it in a close ballot battle with Florida A&M, compiled a 9-1 record during 1962. Their only loss was an 8-6 decision to Memphis State, a major college.

It was the second time Southern Mississippi has won the UPI coaches' national championship, the first being in 1958. In between, they were ranked briefly as a major college but then went back into the small college rankings by the NCAA.

Rounding out the top 5 in the final ratings were Lenoir-Rhyne in 4th place and Wittenberg 5th. From 6th through 10th it was Northern Illinois, Fresno State, Texas A&I, Delaware and Montana State.

The "second 10" included, in order, Southeastern Louisiana, Arkansas State, California Poly of Pomona, then College of Emporia (Kans.) and Linfield tied for 14th, Adams State, South Dakota State, then Omaha and Parsons tied for 18th, and finally St. John's (Minn.).

The final United Press International small college football ratings for 1962 with first-place votes and won-lost records in parentheses.

Team	Points
1. Southern Mississippi (19) (9-1)	286
2. Florida A&M (7) (9-0)	273
3. Central Oklahoma (3) (9-0)	233
4. Lenoir-Rhyne (10-0)	204
5. Wittenberg (2) (9-0)	126
6. Northern Illinois (8-1)	105
7. Fresno State (7-3)	104
8. Texas A&I (9-0-1)	102
9. Delaware (7-2)	94
10. Montana State (7-3)	54

Second 10—11, Southeastern Louisiana 36; 12, Arkansas State 30; 13, Calif. Poly of Pomona (2) 29; 14 (tie), College of Emporia (Kan.) and Linfield 23 each; 16, Adams State (1), 22; 17, South Dakota State; 18 (tie), OMAHA and Parsons (1) 18 each; 20, St. John's (Minn.) 17.

Others (5 or more points)—Northern (S.D.) State 15; William Jewell 11; Drake 10; San Diego State and Whittier 8 each; Southwest Texas and Susquehana 7 each, and West Chester 5.

Hunting Permits May Cost More

The State Game Commission will seek to nearly double the price of hunting and fishing permits, according to Frank Foote, a Commission supervisor.

The additional income of about $600,000 annually would be used for a new capital improvement fund to provide increased public hunting and fishing opportunities, he said.

Under the Commission's proposal, the $2 fishing license would sell for $4, and hunting licenses would be increased from $2.50 to $4.

Combination permits would cost $7.50 instead of the present $4.

Lincoln Chamber Urges Sales Tax

Adoption by the Legislature of a sales tax to replace the property tax has been recommended by the board of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber acted on recommendation of its Taxation Committee, which reported on a referendum of the general chamber membership showing 471 in favor a change in the tax base and 74 opposed to any change.

Of those favoring a change, 193, or 41%, advocated a sales tax to replace the state property tax levy. Only 15, or 3%, favored an income tax as a replacement.

The chamber called for a 2% sales tax. If an income tax is considered by the Legislature, the chamber said, it should be a flat rate tax rather than a progressive tax.

Opposed Corporation Tax

Opposed was any tax on corporate income, as an effort to further industrial growth of the state. Any income tax should also replace the present tax on intangible property, the income from which would be taxed under any income tax plan, and the tax on household goods.

The chamber board also recommended that the City Council adopt a salary for the mayor under Lincoln's new full-time mayor form of government of from $15,000 to $18,000 a year.

Chamber Vice President Myron Weil reported on plans to raise funds in 1963 to support a budget of $189,000. Weil was critical of the chamber's fiscal position this year where only $140,000 has been raised to meet a budget that had been set at $180,000.

A deficit operation for this year is clearly seen, he said. If financial success is not achieved in 1963, he said, the chamber will be, not a second-rate, but a fifth-rate organization.

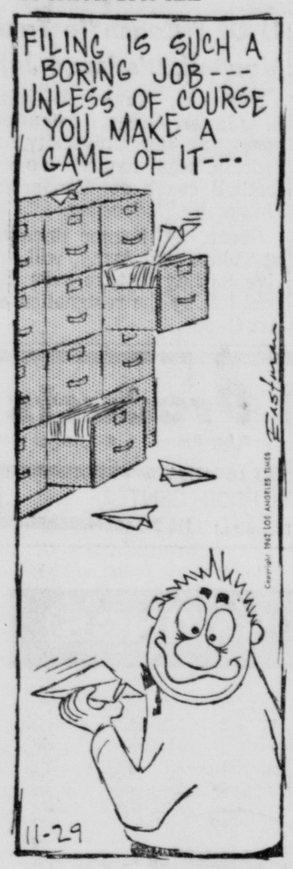

Approved Hike

The board also approved efforts of its Streets and Highways Committee to secure a change in Highway Department policy against spending of funds on highways in cities of 5,000 or more population. The board approved a hike from $8 to $12 in motor vehicle registration fees if such was deemed necessary to acquire the funds needed to facilitate a change in policy.

Committee Chairman Joe R. Seacrest noted that 16 out of 24 towns in Nebraska with a population of 5,000 or more have joined in the drive to change the highway policy.

The board also approved a resoluation of its Conventions Committee urging the Nebraska School Activities Association to maintain Lincoln as the only site for the state high school basketball tournament.

Airman Confesses Stealing Change From Pop Vendor

Police were holding a 20-year-old LAFB airman Wednesday night after he admitted committing a burglary at the Save-A-Mor Service Station, 3301 So. 10th.

Detective Capt. Robert Sawdon said the burglary was discovered by officers early Wednesday morning.

A soft-drink machine had been broken into and the coin box, containing approximately $100 in small change, taken. Also missing was a 16-inch chrome chisel-punch bar which had been in the grease room.

Capt. Sawdon reported Wednesday night:

"The airman we now have in custody has admitted his implication both orally and in a written statement. We also recovered part of the money and the coin box which was taken from the pop machine."

Sawdon said, however, that investigation of the burglary was continuing.

CRANE TOPPLES, 3 WORKERS KILLED

New York (AP)—Three men were killed Wednesday when a crane being used in track work toppled 40 feet from an elevated section of a subway line in Brooklyn, police reported.

Two bodies were trapped in wreckage of the crane. A third man, identified as Roland C. Capuano, Brooklyn, died en route to a hospital. Police said he had been directing operations from the ground at the time of the accident.

Names of the two other dead men were withheld pending notification of relatives.

Police In Istanbul Nab 5 Members Of Narcotics Ring

Istanbul, Turkey (UPI) — Police said Wednesday they had captured 5 members of an international narcotics ring along with 50 kilos (110 pounds) of morphine base, destined to have been sold in the United States for an estimated $5 million.

Police arrested Ahmed Soysal, Sefer Bezal, Ali Bezal, Ramiz Zeren and Mustafa Ozer after detectives posed as wealthy would-be buyers. They said two other members of the ring, Fahrettin Soysal and Adil Ozkurt, escaped.

The morphine base, found in 52 bags, was to have been shipped to the French port of Marseilles, turned into heroin and then shipped to the United States.

Hospitals To Ask More For Poor Patients

Lincoln's 3 general hospitals will ask Lancaster County for increased payments for indigent patients before the first of the year, according to Herbert A. Anderson.

Anderson, Lincoln General hospital administrator said Wednesday that Lincoln General, together with the Lincoln Hospital Council, will present their case before the county commissioners "soon."

Said Anderson, "Whatever the county does not pay is passed to the sick people who can't afford it. This is grossly unfair."

Anderson said that the commissioners some time ago approved a resolution providing that indigent patient fees would cover from 85 to 90% of the average daily patient cost.

"This was just never enacted," he said.

Ralph Harlan, commissioner chairman, contacted at his home Wednesday, said he was not aware of any hospital complaints concerning present indigent patient payments.

The commissioners last year raised the indigent per patient fee from $20 to $22.

The plan to ask for increased fees was announced at a Lincoln General Hospital board meeting as members reviewed differences between current average daily patient costs of $29.04 and the $22 per day paid by the county for indigent hospitalization.

St. Elizabeth's average daily patient cost is near $28 and Bryan Memorial about $32.

Concerning the discrepancy in reported per patient cost and county payments, Harlan told The Star, "Hospital reported costs differ from the city-county health board estimates."

Dr. George Underwood, head of the health board, could not be reached for comment Wednesday.

Also discussed at the Lincoln General board meeting were plans for the Lincoln General Hospital plant.

Anderson noted that the board was "impressed with the clover-leaf design," but added that no definite decisions would be reached before Dec. 16.

He said the board heard several reports on the architectural nursing schemes in Iowa and Minnesota.

Churning Storm Topples Derrick

Miami, Fla. (AP) — A storm churning southward 300 miles off the Florida east coast slapped down a derrick being used to construct a seawall at Delray Beach and pushed cloudy, chilly weather into Florida Wednesday.

Tides two feet above normal gnawed at the southeast coast, causing local flooding along the beaches at high tide.

"Considerable erosion will occur during the period of high tides," forecasters said.

Break For Bad Guys

Belgrade (UPI) — The Yugoslav government has decided to free 26 convicts, give conditional releases to 175 others, and reduce sentences of 267 prisoner in an amnesty marking Yugoslav National Day, the news agency Tanjug said.

Wayne Coed Given $800 Home Ec Scholarship

Chicago — Verlene Magnuson of Wayne, Neb., has been named winner of a $800 home economics scholarship sponsored by the Sunbeam Corporation.

She was named winner of the scholarship at the National 4-H Club Congress now in progress, according to W. M. Antes, state 4-H club leader at the University of Nebraska. Thirty-two Nebraska 4-H club members are attending the Congress this week.

Miss Magnuson, a senior at the University of Nebraska, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Magnuson of Wayne. She is working her way through college and is majoring in home economics with special emphasis on fashion merchandising.

She has been very active in 4-H club work, having received the God-Home-Country Award, the Sears-Roebuck Foundation home improvement award and the Thomas E. Wilson beef project award. She is a veteran of 8 years in 4-H club work.

Meanwhile two other Nebraska 4-H club members — Thomas Thurber of Lexington and Larry Langemeier of Fremont — have been named winners of $400 scholarships awarded by the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad.

Thurber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Thurber, was awarded the scholarship in economics. He is a senior at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

Langemeier, also a senior at the University, received the scholarship in forest economics. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Langemeier.

Langemeier won the scholarship on the basis of his

9-year record in 4-H club work and his special report on a phase of marketing and transportation of forest products. The report was entitled: "Marketing and Transportation's Stake in the Black Hills and Nebraska's Pine Ridge Forest Future."

Thurber also has been very active in 4-H club work and wrote a special report on a phase in the marketing and transportation of agricultural commodities entitled: "Attributes of Selling by Carcass Weight and Grade."

Dairy Conference Delegates Leave

Nebraska's 4 delegates to the National 4-H Dairy Conference at Chicago, Ill., left by train Wednesday to attend the 4-day event expected to attract 180 young dairymen and adult leaders from 25 states.

The quartet of 3 girls and a boy were selected for expense-paid trips to the conference on the basis of leadership ability and achievement in 4-H dairy projects. The Cooper Foundation of Lincoln is this year's trip donor.

The 4 trip winners are: Judy Johnson, Elkhorn; Rosemay Gilliland, Wayne; Tom E. Brubaker, Holmesville; and Joyce Eisenhauer, Fairbury. Accompanying the group is P. H. Cole, Extension dairyman at the University of Nebraska, and Mrs. Cole.

During their stay in Chicago, the Nebraskans will hear discussions on problems confronting the dairy industry, listen to talks by noted authorities in the field, get acquainted with delegates from other states, participate in banquets and educational tours and view a variety of exhibits.

Mrs. Faidy Dies; Sister Of Famed Sculptor Borglum

Chicago (AP)—Mrs. Harriett Borglum Faidy, 80, a Chicago social worker for many years and sister of the late Gutzon Borglum, internationally known sculptor, died Tuesday after an illness of 3 months.

Mrs. Faidy, who was born in Omaha, was the last surviving member of 9 children of Dr. John G. DeLaMothe Borglum that also included Solon, a sculptor, and August, longtime music critic for the Omaha World-Herald. Her brother, Gutzon, was the sculptor of the huge presidential heads at Mount Rushmore Memorial in the Black Hills of South Dakota.

Valentine Rancher, 20 Cowhands Drive 517 Hereford Cattle To Market.

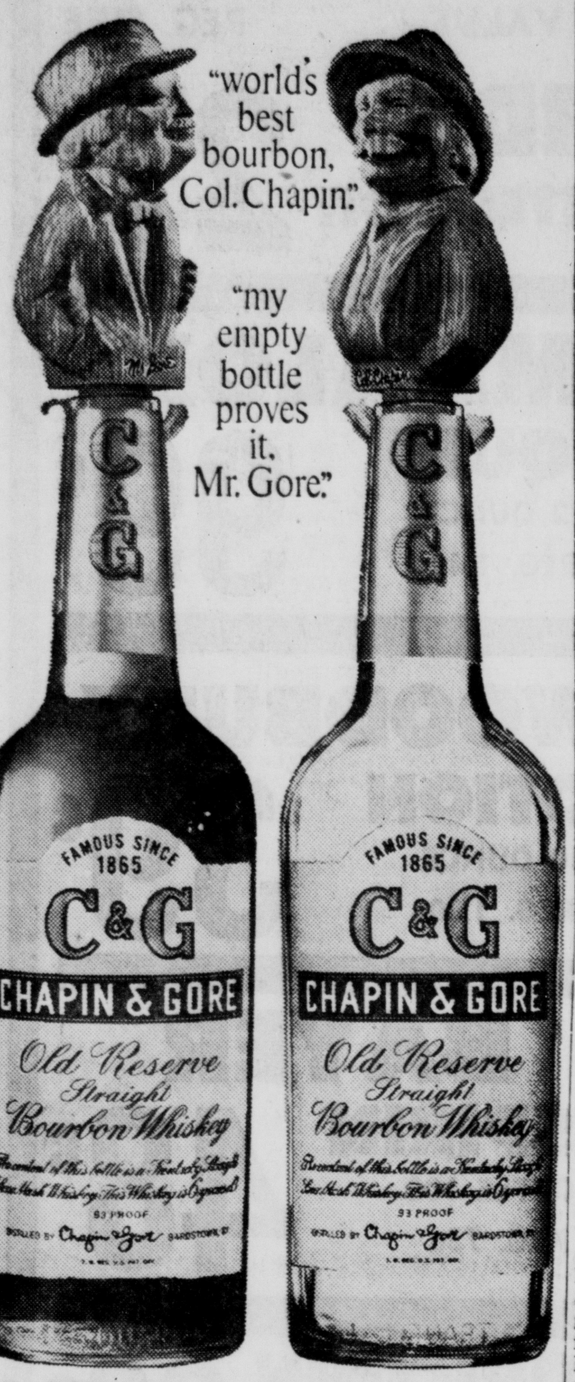

Valentine (UPI) — Area rancher P. H. Young and a crew of 20 cowhands arrived Wednesday driving 517 Hereford cattle to market.

"The cattle look better after a trail drive and don't get as dirty as in trucks," Young said.

The drive started Tuesday, covering 6 miles in fairly pleasant weather from the Young ranch some 19 miles southwest of here.

The cattle were bedded down Tuesday night and the drive climaxed Wednesday.

Young said he will sell his herd at the Valentine auction market next Wednesday.

Spending Up 600 Per Cent

. . . COMPARED TO 1939-41 STATE LEVEL

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

State government spending has increased almost 6-fold in the past 24 years — from $72,250,000 in the 1939-41 biennium, to an estimated $432,250,000 for the current biennium, State Auditor Ray C. Johnson disclosed Wednesday.

Johnson, whose office handles every single warrant involving state expenditures, noted the increases to show the increased volume of work as he appeared before Gov. Frank Morrison to explain his 1963-65 budget request.

Actual expenditures, as cited by Johnson, are greater than appropriations listed in budget bills because the bills do not include revolving funds of the various agencies on which warrants are drawn by Johnson's office.

Listing some of the key agencies' spending of 24 years ago, compared with estimated expenditures today, Johnson showed the University of Nebraska spent $7,813,000 in 1939-41, compared with $54,250,000 for 1961-63; Highway Department, $21,693,000 — $134,000,000; Normal Schools, $1,691,000 — $10,250,000; Public Institutions, $7,303,000 — $33,000,000; Education Department, $1,033,000 — $17,675,000; Welfare Department, $17,268,000 — $42,500,000; Health Department, $394,000 — $4,400,000, and Game Commission, $446,000 — $5,200,000.

The number of warrants handled by his office now average from 46,000 to 48,000 a month, Johnson said, an increase of 300% over the number handled 20 years ago, and 25% higher than the volume handled 6 years ago. He estimates the number will be 54-55,000 in the next biennium.

He has added just two persons in the department that handles these warrants in the past 24 years, Johnson said, explaining why he is asking for $76,000 more for additional bookkeeping machines and personnel to take care of the growing volume.

Also Appeared

The State Health Department also appeared before the governor Wednesday seeking a budget of $5.8 million, an increase of $1.1 million over its present appropriations, much of which will go to boost salaries.

The increases are necessary if the department is to be able to keep and hire competent personnel, State Health Director Dr. E. A. Rogers said.

He also said the department is going to ask the 1963 Legislature for an emergency appropriation of $30,000 to purchase equipment in connection with its newly developing program to protect people from radioactive fallout.

Included among other budget requests heard Wednesday by Morrison were the attorney general's office which is asking $313,398, compared with $321,903 appropriated for the current two years; the Insurance Department, seeking $523,614, compared with its present $450,714; the fire marshal's office, asking for $174,057, as against its current $160,597, and the Labor Department, seeking $151,069, compared with its present $114,032.

CHINA ISN'T INCLUDED IN KELLEY'S AREA

John Kelley, special assistant to Gov. Frank Morrison, was shaking his head in bewilderment Wednesday wondering how anyone got the idea that he would, or could, speak on the question of Red China's admission to the United Nations.

A short story in The Star Wednesday reported that University of Nebraska Young Democrats were going to discuss this topic at their Thursday night meeting at the Student Union.

The same story also said that Kelley would speak at the meeting.

Somewhere along the way, someone added one and one together and came up with 3—stating that Kelley would speak to the Young Demos on this subject.

Queried about this later story, Kelley shook his head in utter disbelief.

First of all, he pointed out, no one had even asked him to speak to that organization's meeting Thursday, and above all else "I certainly am not prepared to discuss the merits or demerits of U.N. membershop of Red China."

Kelley's duties include promoting tourism in Nebraska.

Gene Tallman Is President Of Two Firms

Gene H. Tallman, of 2905 So. 24th, was named president of the Universal Surety and the Inland Insurance companies Wednesday.

Tallman

Announcement of Tallman's appointment came from George P. Abel, former president of the two insurance firms, and E. M. Hunt, president of First Nebraska Securities, Inc.

Abel will continue as chairman of the board of both companies, he said.

Tallman, who has been a director of the companies for several years, will assume his new office Jan. 1.

The new president also serves as vice president and treasurer of First Nebraska Securities, Inc., a company he helped organize as the only New York Stock Exchange member firm with home offices in Nebraska.

The two insurance companies are Nebraska corporations writing surety and property insurance through the Midwest, Abel said.

A new home office building under construction at 11th and J will soon house the two companies, whose total assets exceed $5 million, he added.

Paris Gives Medal To John H. Whitney

Paris (UPI)—John Hay Whitney, president and publisher of the New York Herald Tribune, received the gold medal of the city of Paris in a ceremony at the Hotel de Ville (City Hall) here Wednesday.

The medal was presented by Paris Mayor Pierre-Christian Taittinger at a reception given as part of the celebration of the 75th anniversary of the European edition of the Herald Tribune, one of the oldest Paris dailies.

The mayor also recalled that Whitney visited France on D-Day, 1944, as a colonel in the U.S. Army.

MEET MR. ZIP

The Postoffice Department is using this cartoon character named Mr. Zip to publicize a new code mail system to speed up out-of-town delivery. The system, announced Wednesday by Postmaster General J. Edward Day, is dubbed "zip code," for zone improvement plan. A series of 5-digit numbers would channel the mail from sender to final destination. Day said the system will be in full operation by next July.

SKYBOLT HAS 5TH FAILURE

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—The Skybolt air-launched ballistic missile failed for the fifth time in as many test firings Wednesday and sources reported the troubles have put the rocket far behind schedule and in danger of being cut back by the Defense Department.

A B52 bomber, streaking more than 7 miles high, unleashed the 39-foot, 5½-ton rocket from beneath its ring wing as it swept above the Atlantic Ocean just off Cape Canaveral.

The Air Force reported that after first stage ignition, the missile failed to gain altitude and impacted in the Atlantic Ocean.

Project sources were pessimistic about the program's progress after 7 months of test flights without a success. Each failure was the result of a different problem.

Airlines Pilot Dies Soon After Landing

Windsor Locks, Conn. (AP) — A veteran Mohawk Airlines pilot died of a heart attack Wednesday, only minutes after landing a twin-engine Convair carrying 15 passengers at Bradley Field here.

After discharging his passengers, Capt. Clifford Albertson, 46, became ill in the terminal building and collapsed. He was dead when doctors arrived.

Co-Op Votes Down Milk Quota Plan

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Members of the Nebraska-Iowa Milk Co-op Association in District 9 voted Wednesday nearly 3 to one against an industry-sponsored, market-sharing program to provide production quotas for dairymen.

The plan has met defeat in each area where dairymen have voted on it, association officers said.

Designed to control excess production, the plan would raise the base blend price for 3.5% test milk from the present $3.98 per cwt. price to an estimated $4.30.

The defeated plan also would have provided that a dairy farmer whose application for membership is approved in the Nebraska-Iowa Co-op after Nov. 30, would first be required to purchase an established base from another producer. A producer's base could be transferred in part or entirely to another producer, according to the plan.

Dairymen objected to members being under quota restrictions while the unorganized dairyman would be allowed to continue or expand his production under still existing federal milk pricing orders.

The District 9 vote, which includes Lancaster County dairymen, resulted in 9 voting for the proposal, 24 against. Six were undecided.

Don Egger of Roca was reelected as a director from District 9 to serve on the board of Nebraska-Iowa Milk Co-op Association.

Hecklers Foiled

Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — Prime Minister Sir Edgar Whitehead has an effective way of foiling hecklers as he pleads the frequently unpopular cause of multiracial government in campaigning for the Dec. 14 general elections. Following two speakers who were heckled unmercifully, he got absolute quiet by saying he'd unplugged his hearing aid.

Stocks Up In Heavy Trade

New York (AP) — The story of Wednesday's stock market was more of the same: higher prices amid heavy trading.

The price trend was up and the trading pace fast from the very start. Most issues reached their best levels around mid-day and some gave up small fractions after that.

The advance was a bit smaller than Tuesday's, as measured by popular averages. However, a number of blue chip issues were higher by a point or a bit more

This was the fifth gain in 7 sessions and it carried the Dow Jones industrial average past the 650 mark for the first time since mid-May. Some analysts believe the 650-660 level in this average will represent the upper limits of the current rally, now well into the fifth week.

Steel issues, which have been depressed for months, retained their place as market leaders. Also in demand were electronics, rubbers, drugs, and mail order-retail stocks.

Volume totaled 5.9 million shares compared with 5.5 million Tuesday and was the highest since 6.72 million changed hands Oct. 24. This was the fifth consecutive day with volume above 5 million, something else that hasn't happened since before the May market plunge.

Both the Dow Jones industrials and the Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed at their highest level since May 16. The AP average was up 1.2 at 240.2 with industrials ahead 1.6, rails up .4 and utilities up .7. The last higher closing on May 16 was 241.5.

The Dow Jones industrials were up 3.80 at 651.85, the highest since 654.04 on May 16.

Of 1,310 issues traded, another broad market, 801 advanced, 297 declined and 212 were unchanged There were 27 new highs for 1962 and 2 lows.

American Stock Exchange prices also advanced on volume of 1.76 million shares compared with 1.44 million Tuesday. Bond prices were irregular.

$13 Billion Is Total Assets Listed In State

Total assets of financial institutions and companies under the jurisdiction of the State Banking Department at the end of the recent fiscal year June 30 totaled $13,050,306,000, according to a report submitted to Gov. Frank Morrison Wednesday by State Banking Director Ralph Misko.

But this was more than $2 billion less than the $15,247,913,000 listed at the end of the previous fiscal year, June 30, 1961.

Neither figure, however, includes assets of sales finance companies, which were not compiled either year.

The June 30 statement includes assets of banks: $618,917,000; industrial loan and investment companies: $18,883,000; cooperative credit associations: $8,403,000; building and loan associations: $381,891,000; credit unions: $21,159,000; trust companies: $7,123,000; installment loan companies; $50,427,000; securities brokers: $11,892,679,000, and securities issurers (for Nebraska only) $50,824,000.

There was a net gain of one bank during the fiscal year, bringing the total in Nebraska to 301.

The two which voluntarily liquidated were the Farmers State Bank of Ithaca and the Wilber State Bank.

The new banks organized were the Southwest Bank of Omaha, Ames Plaza Bank of Omaha and the Keith County Bank of Ogallala.

Prof. Davis's Spouse Dies At Age Of 77

Mrs. Herbert P. Davis, 77, of 3715 Holdrege, died Wednesday. She was the wife of a retired University of Nebraska department head.

An active civic worker, she graduated from Lochhaven State Normal School in Pennsylvania and took a bachelor's degree in home economics from the University of Nebraska in 1924.

She was the first president of the Lincoln Rotary Ann Club in 1946, and served as president of the women's association of the First-Plymouth Congregational Church in 1946-48.

Her husband is a retired chairman and professor of dairy husbandry. He was with the University of Nebraska for 40 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis established the Fritz Davis award in memory of their son, who died in an airplane crash in January 1953 while serving with the Navy. The award is given by First-Plymouth Congregational for athletic skill and Christian character.

Mrs. Davis is survived by her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Carolyn McKittrisk of Winnetka, Ill.; brothers, Ernest Greiner of Newcastle, Pa., and Otto Greiner of Kalamazoo, Mich.; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Friday at First-Plymouth Congregational, the Rev. Ford Forsythe officiating. Burial will be at Wyuka Cemetery.

Snow Hits Hungary

Budapest (UPI) — Heavy snowstorms have isolated some 40 villages in western Hungary, cut wires carrying electricity to many others and slowed industrial operations, police reported.
